ADDITIONAL ACKNOWLEDGMENT

Many readers, particularly subscribers, have been very generous in furnishing information. The limitations of space make it impossible to give a special acknowledgment in each instance. An exception must be made in favor of the veteran antiquary, SHELDON B. THORPE, who, now in his 86th year, has rendered invaluable aid by copying for our use many of his private records relating to North Haven families.

Compiled by Hon. RALPH D. SMYTH, and communicated by Dr. BERNARD C. STEINER.

1. THOMAS[1] COOKE, SR., was one of the original signers of the plantation covenant of Guilford, and the latest survivor of the signers. His name is the one immediately preceding that of Mr. Whitfield, and is the last but one on the list. He evidently was quite a young man when he came to Guilford, probably from 21 to 25 years of age, and was born about 1615 to 1618. He was representative of Guilford to the General Assembly at Hartford, May session, 1666. He died Dec. 1, 1692. His nuncupative will, proved June 13, 1693, mentions his son Thomas Cooke, Jr., and his daughter Elizabeth Hall and her children Thomas Hall and Samuel Hall. He is called on the records Thomas Cooke, Juror. In 1690 he was taxed on £31 15s., and gave his 4th division land to his grandson Thomas Hall. His home-lot contained about 2 acres, and in addition thereto he owned a parcel of upland containing 6¼ acres. The home-lot was sold by his son to the town in 1695, that it might be used as a settlement for the new pastor, Rev. Thomas Ruggles. A FAMILY HISTORY.

GENEALOGY OF THE

COOKE FAMILY.

BY DR. J. P. KIRTLAND.

AN INTERESTING GLIMPSE OF EARLY
NEW ENGLAND LIFE.

1875.

PREFACE.

THE venerable Dr. Jared P. Kirtland recently compiled for Mrs. Josiah Barber, of this city, a genealogical account of the Cooke family which originated in Wallingford, Conn., and as the record is interspersed with personal recollections by Dr. Kirtland and racy comments on the public men and affairs of a past day, she has thought best to publish it. The claim having been set up in Virginia that Mrs. Hayes is of Virginian stock, Dr. Kirtland shows that she comes of old Connecticut stock, being a direct descendant of the Wallingford Cooke.

Dr. Kirtland says the ancestors of most of the Cookes in New England came from Herefordshire and Kent, in England. Henry Cooke was at Plymouth, Mass., before 1640. His sons, Isaac is supposed to have remained at Plymouth and John to have settled at Middletown, Conn. Henry and Samuel settled at Wallingford, Conn., and were the ancestors of most of the name of Cooke in Connecticut and of many in various parts of the country. All were Puritans.

Is this Henry himself or one of his sons?

The ancestors of most of this name in New England came from Herefordshire and Kent in England. Henry Cooke was at Plymouth, Mass., before 1640. His sons, Isaac is supposed to have remained at Plymouth, and John to have settled at Middletown, Conn. Henry and Samuel settled at Wallingford, Conn., and were the ancestors of all the Connecticut Cooke. All were Puritans.

a. SAMUEL, came to New Haven in 1663, married Hope, daughter of Edward Parke, in that place, May 2d, 1667. They went to Wallingford in April, 1667, with the first planters; was the first tanner and shoemaker there and was regarded as a very good man; was frequently called to fill responsible offices in the church and village. After the decease of his wife Hope, he married Mary Roberts, July 14th, 1690 1690. He died March, 1702, and left an estate of £340. By the two marriages he had fifteen children; the eighth child we will designate as ISAAC 1st, though he had a son Isaac who died in his infancy in 1673.

CHILDREN: 1. Elihu, born April 25th, 1757; 2. Rhoda, born April 16th, 1761, married John Davis; 3. Roswell, born Dec. 6th, 1764; 4. Uri H., born Jan. 19th, 1767, supposed to have settled in Norway, Herkimer Co., N.Y., in 1798; 5. Amos, born Nov. 29, 1768; 6. Lucinda, born Oct. 31, 1771, married Stephan Hart in 1790; 7. Sybil, born Oct. 10th, 1778, married Thomas Welton, Jan. 3d, 1797; 8. Lyman, born Sept. 21, 1780, settled at Marcellus, N. Y.; 9. Desire, born March 5th, 1783.

2nd

Of the children of Isaac and Jerusha Cooke (Isaac 2d) there settled and were living in Wallingford, as late as 1810, the following, to-wit:

1. Amos.
2. Isaac 3d.
3. Caleb.
4. Ambrose.
5. Mindwell.

d. AMOS.

Long before the American Revolution, he attached himself to the then small society of Episcopalians. That society were Loyalists or Tories at and during the Revolution. Small in numbers they embraced some of the best families in that town. A most violent and virulent persecution was commenced against them, not milder nor more tolerant than the recent Ku Klux at the South. Many of the best families were compelled to flee with their clergyman, the Rev. Samuel Andrews, to Nova Scotia. Amos Cooke took a prominent position in defense of his religious rights. A history of the insults, abuses, and persecutions he suffered during that contest would fill a volume. I have heard them recounted a thousand times over by himself, his friends and foes. Arrests and fines used up all his property and destroyed his business. At the close of the war he was poor but owned a small place on Main street, in Wallingford.

In 1786–7 the constitution of the United States was formed and adopted. He once told me that he now, as during the revolution, "was determined to be on the side of the Government," and accordingly attached himself to the Federal party as an ardent defender of the new constitution. All of the Episcopalians in that town, as well as many of its best people, took the same position, but all of that numerous rabble that had been such ardent patriots during the revolution now became anti-Federalists or Democrats. Many respectable persons also joined the anti-Federal party, which constituted a large majority in the town. Politics never ran higher or raged with more virulence.

They eventuated in the election of Mr. Jefferson as president. The great Jeffersonian festival was held here on the 11th of March, 1801.

"Physical causes influence the moral faculty," wrote Dr. Rush. Both physical and mental causes had for a long series of years exerted their full and unfavorable influences on this individual and changed his nature and disposition. While the whole Cooke family, in all its branches, were distinguished for kindness, affability, and a musical taste, he Amos from 1800 to 1810, when I intimately knew him was morose, misanthropic and quarrelsome. This life of controversy had obliterated the kind

Cooke disposition and substituted a pugilistic one in its place. His children scattered and left him, and he and his wife, for at least ten years experienced a life of poverty, relieved in part by the contributions of his son Roswell, his Cooke relations, and the members of the Episcopal church.

His wife died May 10th, 1810. Soon after Roswell came with a carriage and prepared to take his father to Farmington, where he would be well cared for. Persuasion make no impression. "No," said he, "I'd rather stay here and read Hudson & Goodwin," (the Federal newspaper) then to go and live with my son Roswell." Two of the township selectmen thought to hasten a termination of the affair by raising him by force into the carriage. A demonstration on his part soon convinced them that their line of duty lay in some other direction. He, however, soon after left Wallingford and took up his residence among his children. From his granddaughter, Mrs. Rachel Pomeroy Emmet, I learn that he died at the house of his youngest son, Lyman Cooke, in Marcellus, N. Y., in the year 1813, age over eighty years.

Mrs. Emmet was in error in supposing her grandmother to have died when her son, Roswell, was a child. Her youngest child, Desire, was born in 1783, when Roswell was nineteen years old. Dr. Davis' Genealogy says, that she died on the 10th of May, 1810. I think I distinctly recollect the event on the day I left Wallingford on my first visit to Ohio.

f. ROSWELL. old Roswell

The 3d son of Amos and Rhoda Hosford Cooke, born December 6th, 1764, married Rachel Newell, of Southington, Conn., October 21st, 1788, died in Delaware, O., on December 27th, 1827. At the age of sixteen years he 1780 1780 volunteered into the army of the revolution, where he continued till the end of that contest, when he was honorably discharged. He purchased a farm on the rich interval lands in the township of Farmington, where he resided till 1813. He was a very respectable citizen, and one of the best farmers in the vicinity. It was a singular coincidence that while his father, Amos Cooke, was suffering persecution in the town of Wallingford for his rigid Episcopalian views and his Federal beliefs, that his son Roswell's residence in Farmington was rendered unpleasant and even uncomfortable by the treatment he received from the population of that town. Roswell Cooke was an extensive reader for a farmer, was in politics a firm Jeffersonian Democrat, and his religious views did not square with those of the Saybrook platform, entertained onnecticut by the good people of Farmington. From these circumstances constant bickerings arose, till, in the year 1813, while the war with Great Britain was progressing, they became so unpleasant that he sold his fine farm on the Farmington intervals and removed to Columbus, Ohio. Here he located on a fine farm between that city and Worthington, in the vicinity of the Scioto river.

g. CHAUNCEY,

born in Farmington, Conn., 1789, married in the same town Caroline Gridley, September 1st, 1812. In the autumn of 1810 Chauncey Cooke entered the pupular and flourishing academy at Wallingford, then in charge of the Rev. Joshua Bradley. At that time a very pleasant, intelligent and social circle of young people were either in attendance on the academy or were residents of the town. Sleighrides, balls, and especially cotillion parties, under the direction of Nathan Clark, afterward colonel in the United States army, frequently engaged the attention of that social circle. Young Cooke was a popular member of it, and as it often engaged in vocal music, and he was a proficient as a singer, he became our musical leader. At that day "Jefferson and Liberty," though now forgotten, was then the universal party song of the Jeffersonians. Politics ran high and it was frequently sang by our young circle. Cooke generally officiated as chorister on such occasions.

In 1813 I learned incidentally that he and all of Roswell Cooke's family had left Farmington and gone to the west, but to what point did not hear, nor did I ever hear anything of him for more than half a century. Fifty-three years afterward he, totally unexpected, called on me at my residence, near Cleveland. Subsequently we often met, talked over the events of our days of early life, and sang together the song of "Jefferson and Liberty." What a change had that long interval of time effected with both of us. He died March 1st, 1875, at the residence of his youngest daughter, Mrs. J. Barber, in Cleveland, O., aged eighty-five years. His remains were taken to his old home, near Columbus for interment.

Divergence of the Mrs. President Hayes Branch of the Cooke Family.

Isaac Cooke, third child of Isaac and Jerusha Sexton Cooke, Wallingford, Conn., born July 28th, 1739 (brother of Amos). At the age of nineteen he had completed his common school education, what then embraced reading, spelling, writing, and arithmetic, and was engaged in learing the trade of stone mason and working at intervals on a farm. At this age he was distinguished for his muscular strength and activity. Athletic exercises, as wrestling, running, jumping, etc., were the popular amusements of the young men. At these he was universally the victor in all contests. Even as late as the year of his death, 1810, his step was as firm and precise as the best drilled West Point student. In 1758, a requisition was made on the province of Connecticut for a large body of her militia to join the expedition against Canada, fitting out under General Abercrombie. Scores of young men, Isaac Cooke among the number, were pressed (not drafted), and forthwith joined the army before Ticonderoga. They were placed under the tyrannical instruction of the British drill sergeants, and from necessity became military proficients. He was present at the battle when Lord Howe was killed. At the close of the campaign he was discharged and returned home, thoroughly embued with martial experience, and was soon elected captain of one of the Wallingford militia companies, an unusual compliment to be conferred on so young a man in those days. This position he held till the commencement of the American revolution, and he brought his company into the highest state of discipline. He married Martha, daughter of Benjamin Cooke, March 6th, 1760, and continued to follow his stone mason trade and to carry on farming till the news of the battle of Lexington arrived. On the receipt of that intelligence he and part of his militia company hastened to Boston. As soon as the Provincial Congress formed a regular army he was commissioned a captain. In that army he continued to serve every day during the protracted contest, and at its disbandonment he was honorably discharged as colonel. He was present generally under the immediate command of Washington in several important battles.

At the crossing of the Delaware, and during the ensuing battle, he and his company occupied a most important position.

After the close of that war he resumed his trade and resided on his farm on the crest of Long Hill, in Wallingford, where he died June 10th, 1810, aged seventy-one years. He was universally respected and beloved by a large circle of acquaintances.

CHILDREN—First, Joel, born October 12th, 1760. When his father was appointed captain in the regular army its regulations required captains to be provided with waiters, who drew regular pay from the Government. This son, though only thirteen years old, his father selected, and he served in that capacity seven years, till the close of the war; then, without a trade or occupation, he married and settled in New Haven. In 1800 the people of Wallingford formed a fine military company, and Joel Cooke was chosen captain of it, though residing thirteen miles from that town. In a brief time he brought the company into such a high state of discipline as to attract public attention. Mr. Jefferson, in a political freak like our modern Democrats, resolved to demolish the United States regular army. In 1806, finding the Government involved in a controversy with Spain, he concluded to raise a number of regiments of troops. Joel Cooke was appointed captain in the Tenth Regiment under the command of Colonel Boyd. To that regiment General Harrison's preservation from a St. Clair defeat at Tippecanoe was owing. Captain Cooke and company particularly distinguished themselves. Soon after ill-health compelled him to resign. He died at Babylon, on Long Island, December 10th, 1851, aged 92.

Samuel settled at Lewiston, N. Y., in 1793. Was father of Bates Cooke, who was for many years Comptroller of the treasury of the state of New York.

Isaac 4th, born in Wallingford, Conn., July 16th, 1768, died at Chillicothe, O., January 22d, 1844; the third son of Colonel Isaac and Martha Cooke. He emigrated to Chillicothe, O., in 1791, where he was very generally and favorably known, and in early days filled several public offices. For a time he was Associate Judge of the Court of Common Pleas. In the year 1828 I was a member of the House of Representatives of Ohio, when he, with Isaac Walk, represented the county of Ross in the same body. We spent many a pleasant evening together during the winter of 1828–9, during the session of the legislature at Columbus. The early history of our native town of Wallingford and the biography of his numerous Cooke relatives were the principal topics of our conversations. In 1792 he married Margaretta Scott.

Marietta, daughter of Isaac Cooke 4th, married James Webb, M. D. A daughter of this marriage is the wife of Rutherford B. Hayes, president of the United States. Mrs. Hayes descended through four successive generations of Isaac Cookes. Not one of her relatives by the name of Cooke is now to be found in the town of Wallingford. A few distant collateral relations still exist there.

Belonging to the same ancestral stock - but not in a direct line of descent. a collateral relation.

Divergence of the Jay Cooke branch of the Cooke Family, via the children of Samuel, the brother of Isaac 1st.

SAMUEL,

the son of Samuel and Hope Cooke, married Hannah Ives of New Haven, March 3d, 1692. She died May 29, 1714. He then married Elizabeth Bedel, of Stratford. He died Sept. 18th, 1725, at Wallingford. He was a farmer in the western part of the township, near the line which now divides Cheshire from Wallingford. He had 14 children, four by second marriage, of which Asaph was third.

ASAPH,

son of Samuel and Elizabeth Cooke, married Sarah Parker of Wallingford and went to Granville, Mass., where he remained until about the close of the revolution, when he removed to Granville, N. Y., where he died in 1792. She died in 1818, aged 96 years. They had 10 children, the 3d Asaph, b. March 6th, 1748.

ASAPH 2d.

son of Asaph and Sarah Parker Cooke, married Thankful Parker, June 17th, 1776. She was born in Wallingford. They removed to Granville, N. Y., in 1818. They then went to Ridgefield Four Corners, Ohio, where he died in 1826, aged 78 years. He was at the battle of Lexington, as were several of his brothers. His widow died in 1818. There were 12 children, the 6th was Elutheras, born December 25th, 1787.

ELUTHERAS,

son of Asaph and Thankful Parker Cooke, married Martha Caswell, of Salem, Washington Co., N. Y. He was a lawyer in Washington Co., before his removal to Sandusky, Ohio. He was frequently a member of the Ohio Legislature and was a member of congress from 1831 to 1833. He died at Sandusky, O., Dec. 27th, 1864.

TWENTY-TWO years ago, DR. JARED P. KIRTLAND wrote this account of the branch of the Cooke Family of Wallingford, Conn., for me. Shortly after this Dr. Kirtland died. My wish is to carry on this work a few steps further and to give a brief statement of the facts connected with the family of CHAUNCEY COOKE and his descendants.

Chauncey, first son of Roswell and Rachel Newell Cooke, was born at Farmington, Conn., August 9, 1789. On Sept 1, 1812, he was married to Caroline Gridley, who was born at Farmington, Conn., Sept. 4, 1789. In 1813 they moved to Ohio, where they spent the remainder of their lives, and where their nine children were born to them. Here Caroline Gridley, wife of Chauncey Cooke, died Feb. 10th, 1853.

1813 - [illegible]

Their children were :

Catherine Cooke, born in Franklin Co., Ohio, Sept. 3th, 1813—died Feb. 6th, 1875.

Richard H. Cooke, born in Franklin Co., Ohio, Jan. 28th, 1815—died May 20th, 1835.

John Pomeroy Cooke, born in Franklin Co., Ohio, March 9, 1817—died January 19th, 1874.

Samuel S. Cooke, born in Franklin Co., Ohio, Dec. 9th, 1818—died April 12, 1879.

Theodore Newell Cooke, born in Franklin Co., Ohio, Nov. 15th, 1820—died Oct. 6th, 1865.

Chauncey C. Cooke, born in Franklin Co., Ohio, Nov. 30th, 1832—died June 28th, 1877.

Justin Oscar Cooke, born in Franklin Co., Ohio, Jan. 19, 1825—died August 30, 1847.

Caroline Jennette Cooke, born in Franklin Co., Ohio, January 28, 1827.

Maria Felicity, born May 6, 1830—died Aug. 22, 1831.

Caroline Jennette Cooke, born in Franklin Co., Jan. 28, 1827, married Josiah Barber, Civil Engineer, of Cleveland, Ohio, Jan. 16, 1851. They spent some years of their married life on the old farm in Franklin County. Here was born to them, on July 6, 1852, their only child, Kate Cooke Barber, who died here June 6th, 1863. almost 11 yrs old

When the war broke out, Mr. Barber enlisted and served three years in the 95th Ohio Inf. Reg't as first lieutenant, and served to the end of the war. At the close of the war, Mr. and Mrs. Barber moved to Cleveland, here in 1884 Mr. Barber died, aged 59 years.

I have added these few personal notes to the account written by Dr. Kirtland. Any member of the family wishing to carry on the work further, may do it, as it pleases him.

Never was there a family more kind and genial among themselves than this branch of the Cookes. They were open hearted and hospitable, and several of them quite gifted in a musical way, so that the home became the natural gathering place for people all around the country on all sorts of festive occasions.

I am the last living child of Chauncey Cooke, my child and husband have also gone before me, so it is for the children of my brothers and sisters, and their cousins, that this account will be of interest, and it is for their pleasure that I have put it into this shape.

MRS. JOSIAH BARBER.

July 7, 1897.

Of the children of Roswell and Rachel Newell Cooke, Chauncey and Rodney settled on the old farm on the Worthington Road, where they each had nine children born to them; living near together, the children were raised almost as one family. They had large business enterprises for those days, grist mills, saw mills, etc., besides farming. Of these large families two of Rodney's remain. H. C. Cooke living on the old farm, Demmon P. Cooke in Columbus, Ohio, and one of Chauncey's, Mrs. Caroline J. Barber, of Cleveland, Ohio.

This history would be incomplete did I not touch a little on pioneer life in the early days of Ohio. My grandfather, with his family, his sons Chauncey and Rodney, with their young wives, were six weeks coming from their pleasant home in Connecticut to their future home in Ohio. At that time there was one log cabin where Columbus now stands. The site of the future city was a slashing; in after years we children often laughed with our parents over their experiences, especially their long journey from Connecticut, which they never tired of narrating. One great trial they met with was the Pennsylvania wagons with their six horse teams and drivers. Some times it amounted to a skirmish (when they attempted to take the right of way from the "damned Yankee carts, as they termed the two-horse wagons from Connecticut) in which case they always found if the carts were small they carried plenty of muscle, and the muscle carried the day. They had the good fortune to arrive safely at their destination, with plenty of strength and energy to carry on their work in the new country.

CURTIS. ORIGIN. Two families of the name settled early in Wallingford, that of Richard from Dorchester (FAM. 1.), and that of Thomas from Stratford (FAM. 8). The account of the former family has been amplified by records kindly furnished by Mr. J. O. Curtis of 140 W. 91 St., New York City, who is collecting Curtis material and invites correspondence from descendants. We have found it difficult to distinguish between Benjamin (FAM. 1, 2, vii) and Benjamin (FAM. 8, 2, i), and the family attributed to the one may belong to the other. Record proof on this point is desired. SEE PAGE 512.

THE KIRTLAND OR KIRKLAND FAMILY.

By V. C. Sanborn, of La Grange, Ill.

Although from time to time many facts have come to light as to the origin of the Kirkland family, no published collection of these facts exists. The four principal sources of information about this family are:

1. Dr. Lothrop's Memoir of Rev. Samuel Kirkland, in Sparks's "Library of American Biography."
2. Savage's "Genealogical Dictionary."
3. Mr. F. W. Chapman's "Kirtland Family" (Register, Vol. xiv.), * and his published "Pratt Genealogy."
4. Lewis and Newhall's "History of Lynn."

Dr. Lothrop's account was the earliest, forming a basis for future researches; and as his account has been very generally accepted, it seems advisable to quote it here, in order, by the genealogy given later, to emphasize the corrections which have been made by discoveries subsequent to 1845, when Dr. Lothrop published his memoir. He says:

"The Kirkland family, as the name shows, is of Scotch descent. In this country it may be traced back to Saybrook, Ct., in 1635. Among the 36 heads of families who were the early settlers of that place, the name of John Kirkland appears, who is said to have come from Silver St., London. He had a son John, who was the father of ten children, of whom Rev. Daniel Kirkland was the youngest but one, and born in 1701."

In fact, John Kirtland was not one of the early settlers of Saybrook, for he did not move there till 1672, nor have I been able to find any authority for the statement that he came from Silver St., London. Mr. Chapman, I believe, discovered in the Saybrook records the connection between John Kirtland of Saybrook and Nathaniel of Lynn; and Mr. S. G. Drake published in his "Founders of New England" (Register, Vol. xiv.) the sailing list of the Hopewell in 1635, with names of the brothers Philip and Nathaniel Kirtland as passengers. Lewis and Newhall's "History of Lynn" gives much fragmentary information about Philip and Nathaniel; and Savage supplements this with many dates and facts. But an essential link in the Lynn records seems to have been overlooked by these authors, namely, that in 1638, when Philip and Nathaniel were but 24 and 22 years of age respectively, there were two Philip Kirtlands in Lynn. This point establishes a connection between the American settlers and a certain John Kirtland of Buckinghamshire, whose will I quote hereafter.

Before tabulating the early generations, let me say a word as to the family name. All the records show that the name of our family was spelled "Kirtland," "Kyrtland" or "Kertland" from 1616 to 1773, both in this country and in England. On what authority rests the present spelling, I cannot say; Dr. Lothrop thought that the family was of Scotch descent; and probably the change from Kirtland to Kirkland, as a supposed original spelling, was made about 1780 by Rev. Samuel Kirkland, and soon after was adopted by his connections. His brother Joseph, writing in 1773 to another brother, John, announcing the death of their father, Rev. Daniel Kirtland, signs his name and directs his letter "Kirtland." This letter is now in the possession of Major Kirkland of Chicago.

The name "Kirtland" is not to be found in English records or pedigrees, so far as I have been able to ascertain. In Essex, in the 13th century, Peter de Kirteling appears as the witness to a grant of land; but no further mention of the name occurs. No family of that name registered its pedigree at the Herald's Visitations of Buckinghamshire or elsewhere. "Kirtland" may be derived from "Curtland" (meaning lack-land), and Burke's "General Amory" describes the arms of Curtland (no location given) as, Or, three cinquefoils pierced gules. The name "Kirkland," however, is an old English name; the family being situated principally in Cumberland, and the "General Armory" gives the coat of—"KIRKLAND": (Kirkland, County Lancaster, Brampton, County Derby; founded by Gamel, Lord of Kirkland, County Derby, and Eastbourne, County Sussex, temp. William I.) Sable, three mullets argent within a bordure engrailed or, quartering KIRKLAND (ancient) Sable, three mullets argent."

A clue to the origin of the American family is furnished by the will of John Kirtland of Newport-Pagnell, Bucks., England, dated 1616. Mr. H. F. Waters printed this will in the REGISTER, Vol. xli., page 60, and I quote his abstract:

> "John Kirtland of Tickford in the parish of Newport-Pagnell, County Bucks., Gentleman, 12 Dec, 1616, proved 1 Aug. 1617. To son Nathaniel all that part of my dwelling house in Tickford wherein I now inhabit, sometime called by the name of Emberton's,* adjoining to the tenement in tenure of William Coningham and to the house and ground of me the said John Kirtland, sometime Thomas Horton's. Legacies to Mary Kirtland my now wife, sons Francis and Joseph Kirtland and daughters Abigail, Susanna and Mary Kirtland. To my eldest son John Kirtland the house or tenement sometime Thomas Horton's (next the above) and adjoining a tenement of heirs of William Barton deceased. Wife Mary and her five children as above. To godson John Kirtland, son of my brother Philip Kirtland, 14s 4d, and to the rest of the children of the said Philip 2s 6d each to be paid unto the said Philip for their use. To the children of my brother Fras. Kirtland 2s 6d apiece. To Francis Foster clerk 10s. Wife Mary to be executrix, friends Geo. Hull and Jno. Horley of Newport-Pagnell to be overseers.
> "Phylip Kyrtland one of the witnesses. Weldon, 82."

* "Paganus de Emberton, of Tykford Priory, Bucks., 1187," Dugdale's "Monasticon."

From the above it will be seen that the American Kirtland family starts with:—

1. (John^{1} ?) Kirtland,—of whom we know only (from his son John's will) that he had,—

2. i. John,^{2} born about 1580.
3. ii. Philip, born about 1585.
iii. Francis, born about 1590, married and had children.

2. John^{2} Kirtland (John ?^{1}) of Tickford in the parish of Newport-Pagnell, Bucks., "Gentleman"; his will quoted above, names the following children:

i. John.^{3}
ii. Nathaniel.^{3}
iii. Francis.^{3}
iv. Joseph.^{3}
v. Abigail.^{3}
vi. Susanna.^{3}
vii. Mary.^{3}

3. Philip^{2} Kyrtland or Kertland (John ?^{1}) probably of Sherrington, Bucks., witness to his brother John's will in 1616, mentioned in that will as having son John and other children. No record of his taking passage for New England. Lewis says Philip Kertland, first shoemaker of Lynn, Mass., came there in 1635. This may have been Philip^{2} the father or Philip^{3} his son; the latter we know came over in 1635. Probably Lewis confused the two, as have others. The first definite record of Philip Kertland Senior is in 1638, when 10 acres in Lynn were granted to "Philip Kertland Senior" and 10 acres to "Philip Kertland Junior." (Lewis & Newhall). In 1643 the father's signature appears on Goody Armitage's petition, a facsimile of the signatures being given in the Register for January 1879, page 61. (This may have been the signature of son Philip, but I think he was then on Long Island.) Children of Philip^{2} by wife unknown,—

i. John^{3}, born 1607, mentioned by name in his godfather and uncle John's will, 1616. In 1659 he made deposition as to his brother Philip's estate. Residence unknown; perhaps at Saybrook, where lived his sister Susanna Wastall, who in 1683 gave to her "childless brother John" a small house and lot in Saybrook. Perhaps also this is the John who was supposed by Dr. Lothrop to have been the father of John^{4}. No record is found of his death.
4. ii. Philip^{3}, born 1614.
5. iii. Nathaniel,^{3} born 1616.
iv. Susanna,^{3} birth unknown, married John Wastall or Westall of Wethersfield. He was a Deputy there in 1643, Goodwin says, and moved to Saybrook in 1653, says Savage; selectman in Saybrook, a prominent man there, and allowed to keep an Inn in 1663. He died in 1683, and left a good estate to adopted son John^{4} Kertland. Susanna Wastall died 1684.

4. Philip^{3} Kyrtland or Kertland (Philip,^{2} John ?^{1}), born in 1614, was too young to be mentioned by name in his uncle John's will in 1616; he was one of the other "children of brother Philip" there mentioned. His earliest definite record is on the sailing list of the ship Hopewell from London April 1, 1635,—"Philip Kyrtland, from Sherrington in Bucks., aged 21; Nathaniel Kyrtland from Sherrington in Bucks, aged 19." (See under Philip^{2} for possible items about him in Lynn records.) In 1638 was granted 10 acres by town of Lynn. In 1640, he and his brother Nathaniel,^{3} with many other Lynn people, settled on Long Island, but Philip^3 must soon have returned to Lynn, from the dates of his children's births on the Lynn records. In 1652 he bought from Nathaniel Tyler his house and lands in Lynn. Philip^3 died before 1659, for we find in Salem Court Files July 17th, 1659, the following:

> "Deposition of John Kirtland, aged about 52. I often heard my brother Phylip say oft times that his wife should have all hee had to dispose of so long as she live; and to my best rememberance hee gave £15 to his dafter Mary and £10 to his dafter Sara, £10 to his dafter Susanna and £10 to his dafter Hanna, this to be giuen to them at ye day of marriag, the land not to be sould so long as she liues."

William Harcher of Lynn, aged about 65, stated that when Philip Kertland was going to sea he told him substantially as above. On October 14th, 1659, Evan Thomas (a vintner who came to Boston from Wales, with wife Jane and four children, in 1640), announces his intention of marrying the widow Alice Kertland of Lynn; and he made conveyance of estate in trust for her children April 24, 1661. By wife Alice, Philip Kertland had the following children, all born in Lynn:

i. Mary^4, born June 3, 1640.
ii. Sarah^4, born September 27, 1646, married John Davis, October 5, 1664.
iii. Susanna^4, born March 8, 1652.
iv. Hannah^4, } twins, born June 12, 1654.
v. Ebenezer^4, }

5. Nathaniel^3 Kyrtland or Kertland (Philip,^{2} John?^{1}), born in 1616. He was an infant (or perhaps unborn) at the date of his uncle John's will. Came over with his brother Philip^3 on the Hopewell and settled in Lynn. Not named in the division of land in Lynn, 1638; in that year was defendant in law suit brought by Isaack Disberowe (Register, 1887, page 361). Went to Long Island with his brother Philip, and, Savage says, staid there some years, marrying Parnell ——— and settling in Southold, L. I. Returned to Lynn before 1658, was selectman there 1678, and died there in 1686 (Lewis & Newhall). Savage gives the following children:

6. i. Nathaniel,^{4} born at Southold, L. I.
ii. Philip^4 (perhaps a son of Philip^3), probably born on Long Island. Married Ruth Pierce (Query: daughter of Capt. Michael Pierce?) October 14, 1677. Was a soldier in King Philip's war, at Hadley, credited from Lynn, April 6, 1676 (Register, 1887, page 79). In 1685 with other Lynn ex-soldiers, petitioned for a tract of land in the Nipmugg Country, on account of services in the late wars.
iii. Ann^4, born in Lynn April 16, 1658.
7. iv. John^4, born in Lynn, August, 1659.
v. Hannah^4, born in Lynn, April 15, 1662.
vi. Elizabeth^4, born in Lynn, March 20, 1664, married William^3 Pratt of Saybrook, son of Lieut. William Pratt.
vii. Mary^4, } twins, born in Lynn, May 15, 1667.
viii. Martha^4, }

6. Nathaniel^4 Kertland or Kyrtland (Nathaniel,^{3} Philip,^{2} John?^{1}). Fined at Lynn in 1667, with two others for "Prophaining ye Lord's Day by going to William Crafts' house and drinkeing of his Sider and Rosteing of his aples without his or his wife's consent" (Lewis & Newhall). Was a soldier in King Philip's War, credited to Capt.

Manning in 1676 (REGISTER, 1888, page 95). Married Mary Rand (probably daughter of Robert of Lynn), who survived him, and in 1690 married Dr. John Henry Burchsted of Lynn (Lewis & Newhall). Children were:

i. NATHANIEL^5 born May 3, 1677.
ii. MARY^5, born Feb'y 1, 1680.
iii. PRISCILLA^5, born April 9, 1683.
iv. ELIZABETH^5, born June 22, 1685.

7. LIEUT. JOHN^4 KERTLAND or KIRTLAND (Nathaniel,^{3} Philip,^{2} John?^{1}), adopted in minority by his aunt Susanna^3 (Kertland) Wastall. Mr. Chapman in his Pratt Genealogy quotes Saybrook Records, Vol. 1, page 78, year 1672:

> "This agreement, between Mr. John Wastall of Saybrook and Mr. Nathaniel Cortland (sic) of Linne in Mattachewsetts. . . Ye said Cortland doth resign up his sonne John to ye disposal of ye said Wastall and his wife Susanna. . . . The said Wastall both promise that ye said John Cortland shall succeed in ye estate of ye said Wastall."

John Kertland married Nov. 18th, 1679, Lydia, daughter of Lieut. Wm. Pratt, an early and influential settler of Saybrook, and upon the death of Mr. and Mrs. Wastall succeeded to a good estate left by them. John Kirtland was somewhat prominent in local affairs, and was appointed Lieutenant of the fort at Saybrook in 1702 and again in 1708. (Colonial Records of Ct., Vols. 4 & 5). He died January 20, 1716, having had the following children:

i. JOHN,^{5} born July 11, 1681, married 1st, Temperance Buckingham; 2d, Lydia Belden.
ii. PRISCILLA, born February 1, 1683, married Thos. Jones.
iii. LYDIA, born October 11, 1685, married 1st, Mr. Griffin; 2d, ——— Conklin.
iv. ELIZABETH, born Jan'y 27, 1688, married John Chapman.
v. NATHANIEL, born Oct. 24, 1690, married 1st, Sara Chapman; 2d, Phœbe De Wolf.
vi. PHILIP, born May 28, 1693.
vii. MARTHA, born August 11, 1695, married Rev. H. Wills.
viii. SAMUEL, born Jan'y 19, 1699, married Martha Whittlesey.
ix. REV. DANIEL, born June 17, 1701 (Yale 1720), ordained first pastor of Newent church at Norwich, Ct., 1721, married July 15, 1723, Mary Perkins, probably daughter of Jabez Perkins and Hannah (Lothrop), and had five sons and seven daughters, among them Rev. Sam'l Kirkland, Missionary to the Oneidas, and father of President John Thornton Kirkland of Harvard University.
x. PARNELL, born October 16, 1704, married John Tully.

Mr. F. W. Chapman's "Kirtland Family" (REGISTER. Vol. xiv.),* to which I have alluded, gives the family record of John^4 Kirtland, from the point reached above, for several generations; and so this article is merely intended to present a record of the first three generations in this country, and to call attention to their English connection.

The will of John Kirtland, which Mr. Waters discovered and printed (REGISTER, Vol. 41, p. 60) is valuable in the proof it furnishes as to the location of the family in England; and it is to be hoped that further research will be made to trace the pedigree of the English Kirtlands or Kirklands.

Both Sherrington and Newport Pagnell are towns in the northern part of Buckinghamshire, within a few miles of each other.

(MUNSON OR MONSON)

By Richard Henry Greene, Esq., of New-York, N. Y.

THIS name, it is said, is made up of "Mon," the abbreviation of Edmund, and son, and therefore means the son of Mon or Edmund: this is not an unusual formation; for instance: Richardson, Dickson, Edmundson, Monson.

1. Thomas^1 Monson or Munson, for the name is written in both ways in this family, was the emigrant and ancestor of most of the name in this country. When he landed, or where, is not exactly known; but he is first heard of in New-Haven, June 4, 1639, when he signed the original agreement, of all the free planters of New-Haven. He removed to Hartford, where he resided in 1641; but returned to N. H. the following year. On the 10th of March, 1646, the committee of the First Church seated Thomas Monson and five others in "No. 5 cross seats," and "Sister Munson" was seated in "second of seats on the side for women." Oct. 5, 1669, the Hon. James Bishop, Lt. Thomas Munson, and three others were appointed commissioners to meet five from Branford to establish boundaries between the two towns. In September, 1675, Lieut. Munson commanded the New-Haven troops ordered, by the council at Hartford, to Norwottock and up the river to defend the plantations against the Indians. Susan Munson, who was probably his wife, came in the Elizabeth, to Boston, in 1634, aged 25; from which we may conclude that her husband had preceded her, and probably landed at the same port. Mrs. Munson's maiden name is unknown; but she was born about the year 1609. There are no data by which we have been able to fix the time of his birth; but a trans-Atlantic search would undoubtedly disclose it. He was a representative in the general court 1666, 1669, 1670, '1, '2, '3, '4 and '5, and died ten years later, in 1685. In the division of his estate, three children are named; the births of two of whom appear on the records, and are as follows:

2. i. Samuel, bapt. Aug. 6, 1643.
3. ii. Hannah, bapt. June 11, 1648.
4. iii. Elizabeth.

2. Samuel^2 Munson (Thomas^{1}), lived in New-Haven; married, Oct. 26, 1665, Martha, daughter of William Bradley; was made freeman in New-Haven in 1669; ensign in Wellingford 1675; is called a proprietor in N. H., before his removal, and again in 1685, after his return from Wallingford, which took place in 1681 or '2. Ensign Samuel Munson died in New-Haven $169\frac{2}{3}$, and his widow, Mrs. Martha Munson, married Mr. Preston. The children of Ens. Samuel^{2} and Martha (Bradley) Munson were:

i. Martha, b. May 6, 1667, in New-Haven.
ii. Samuel, b. Feb. 28, 1668–9. “ “
iii. Thomas, b. March 12, 1670–1. “ “
iv. John, b. Jan. $2\frac{6}{8}$, 1672–3. “ “
v. Theophilus, b. Sept. 1, 1675. “ “
vi. Joseph, b. in Wallingford.
vii. Stephen, b. “
viii. Caleb, b. Nov. 19, 1682, in New-Haven.
ix. Joshua, b. Feb. 7, 1684, “ “
x. Israel, b. March 6, 1686, in New-Haven; the only one not living in 1698.

3. Hannah^{2} Munson (Thomas^{1}), married Joseph Tuttle, Mar. 2, 1667. He was son of William Tuttle, who came to Boston in the Planter, in 1635, aged 26, with his wife Elizabeth aged 23, and three children. They had two more children before 1639, when they removed to New-Haven, and seven born afterward, of whom Joseph, mentioned above, was baptized Nov. 22, 1640, made freeman 1669, a proprietor in 1685, and died 1690, aged 62. Hannah (Munson) Tuttle married second, in 1694, Nathan Bradley, and died the next year 1695. The children were:

i. Joseph Tuttle, b. March 18, 1668.
ii. Samuel, b. July 15, 1670.
iii. Stephen, b. May 20, 1673.
iv. Joanna, b. Dec. 13, 1675.
v. Timothy, b. Sept. 30, 1678; died young.
vi. Susanna, b. Feb. 20, 1680; “ “
vii. Elizabeth, b. July 12, 1683.
viii. Hannah, b. May, 1685; died young.
ix. Hannah, b.

4. Elizabeth^{2} Munson (Thomas^{1}), married Richard Higginbotham, a tailor. He was a proprietor in New-Haven in 1685, but removed before 1692 to Elizabethtown, N. J., and a few years later returned to Connecticut and settled in Stamford. She may have been older than Hannah, or even Samuel, which would account for her birth not being on the New-Haven records. Richard and Elizabeth had one child:

i. Rebecca.

Munson.—A Stately Record Contradicted.—The most ancient volume of vital statistics in New Haven is a great blessing to the genealogist, and he is disposed to regard its statements as authoritative. But the writer finds occasion to impeach an important record which has stood unchallenged upon its pages for more than a hundred and fifty years. This error relates to the birth of 'Squire Baszel Munson, who appears to have been the most prominent citizen of that part of New Haven which became Hamden in 1786.

This man was born in 1730. According to the venerable record which I have mentioned, he was the son of Sergeant John Munson, Jr. But it is certain that he was the son of John's brother Joel. Some of the elements of this certainty may be seen in the following facts.

1. The estate of John's widow was distributed (Pro. Rec. vii. 337) to three sons and two daughters, surviving children; there is no mention of a Baszel. 2. Two of the three sons were minors, and the eldest became their guardian (vii. 134); there is no mention of Baszell, aged 17. 3. In a deed (Land Rec. xliv. 528) Baszel mentions "my mother Mary Munson." Joel married Mary Morriss; John, Jr., married Esther Clark. 4. In another deed (xxxviii. 393) Baszel names "my sister Mary Mallery." John had no Mary; Joel had a Mary who married Peter Mallery. Add that Mary Mallery in a conveyance (xxxiv. 217) speaks of "my brother Baszel Munson." 5. In another deed (xxxii. 92) Baszel names "my Honrd father Joel Munson." 6. And finally, in yet other deeds (xvii. 315; xviii. 320), Joel makes mention of "my son Baszel Munson."

As the error which I have brought to view relates to the ancestry of a large group of families, and as it has been published in various genealogical works, I have thought it desirable that the correction, and the data which support it, should be made known through the pages of the Register. Myron A. Munson.

THE NEW HAVEN (CONN.) POTTERS, 1639.

By James Shepard, of New Britain, Conn.

1. Hannah [Potter] Beecher was the mother of the New Haven Potters, who appeared early in New Haven as a widow with sons: i. John, ii. William and iii. Isaac Beecher, the ancestor of Rev. Henry Ward Beecher. Her first husband, Potter, died in England, where she married a Mr. Beecher.

It is generally supposed that her husband was John Beecher, one of the seven whom Eaton sent to New Haven in advance of the colony and who died before the colony arrived. She has been considered to be the mother of Isaac Beecher, for she calls him her son in her will and gave him one-third of her property; but recent investigations, it is claimed, show conclusively that Isaac was only a step-son, the son of her second husband by a former wife.

There was in New Haven, says G. F. Tuttle, as early as 1641, a widow Hannah Potter, known as widow Potter the midwife. In 1643 she had two persons in the family, thirty pounds estate and twenty and one quarter acres of land. She is called "sister Potter the midwife," in seating the meeting house in 1646. She is supposed to have been akin to the other Potters, but there is no record to show it. She has often been confounded with the widow Hannah Beecher, but the records clearly show that they were two different persons.

The will of Hannah Beecher was proved April 5, 1659, and is recorded in first part, vol. i., p. 80, of New Haven Probate Records, as follows:

"I Hannah Beecher of New Haven, expecting my great change do make this my last will and testament, I bequeath my soul unto the hands of my Lord Jesus Christ by whose meritt I hope to be saved and my body to be burried at the discretion of my Son William Potter my Executor. And for my worldly goods I give unto John Potter my Grand child twenty shillings and to Hannah Blackly, my Grand child, wife to Samuel Blackly, twenty shillings, And to Samuel Potter my Grand child twenty shillings to be paid to them within three months after my decease. And for the rest of my estate I give one third part to my son Isaac Beecher and two thirds to my eldest son William Potter, making him my Executor, desiring him to be as a father to his younger brother and his children. And in dividing my goods my will is that my son William should have my feather bed with that belongeth to it, unto his part and that the rest be divided at the discretion of my Overseers with the assistance of Sister Wakeman and sister Rutherford and I desire my loving freinds Mr. Mathew Gilbert and John Wakeman to be overseers of this my last will whereunto I have set my hand this 13th day of June, Anno 1657.

Witnesses.
Mathew Gilbert,
John Wakeman,
Sarah Rutherford."

the mark of
HANNAH BECHER.

Her children were: John Potter, died 1643. William Potter, born about 1608; died 1662.

2. JOHN^2 POTTER (Hannah^1 Beecher,) was a freeman in New Haven in 1639, not admitted when the planters' covenant was first signed but expressed his consent to it and soon after subscribed to the agreement made in general town meeting, 1639, "thatt church members onely shall be free burgesses and they onely shall chuse among themselves magistrates and officers."

In 1643 he had four persons in the family, estate valued at twenty-five pounds, and had twenty-eight and three-quarter's acres of land. Tuttle says that he died in 1643. The name of John Potter's widow was Elizabeth. In June, 1646, one Mrs. Brewster was before the conrt for slandering many persons one of whom was William Preston. She also slandered widow Potter (of John), and Edward Parker. For some reason, not stated, the elders, &c., did not approve of Edward Parker and requested Mrs. Potter not to receive his attentions. The result was that Mrs. Potter was excommunicated and Mrs. Brewster said that "Mrs. Potter would not join the church because she would not give up Edward Parker." She married Edward Parker about this time, for in July, 1646, "Edward Parker and his wife presented their desires to the Court to invest John Potter's two sons in the right of their father's land and house and declared themselves willing to bestow a heifer of a year old on Hannah and deliver it presently for her use and so to be improved as stock for her * * * per a particular writing in the hand of the secrettarie, made and signed by both of them before the governor, deputy governor and magistrates."

In the same year "It was ordered with the consent of Edward Parker and his wife, that Jn°. Potter should be put an apprentice for 8 years from the first of Aug. last unto Roger Allen for to learne his trade."

In November, 1649, Edward Parker appeared in Court and "desired that he might be freed from his engagement concerning the house and lott which was John Potter's and is securitie for the children's portions, for he is willing to leave it to the court to dispose of otherwise."

In 1650 William Potter was called before the court to account for a heifer he had of his kinswoman Hannah Potter. He said he would give twenty shillings a year for her until his kinswoman was of age to receive her.

After Edward Parker's death in 1662, his widow, Elizabeth, married Robert Rose of Branford, who died in 1665. Rose and his first wife were ancestors of the writer, and by this marriage he can say that he descended from both wives of Robert Rose.

Widow Rose was probably a business woman, for her son John Potter, in his will, 1706, gives to his son Samuel "ye still that was my mother's." He also gives to the same son the bedstead and little chair "that was his grandmother's," (widow Hannah Beecher's). Widow Elizabeth Rose made her will July 23, 1677, and died before signing it. The children agreed to abide by the will and later the court admitted the will to probate. Nothing is known against widow Elizabeth Rose, alias Parker, alias Potter, except her romantic attachment for Edward Parker, and nothing is known against Parker except that the elders for some unknown reason did not approve of him. The fact that her heirs agreed to stand by a void will is conclusive proof that she was a woman of merit and had the respect of her children, who were willing, even in property affairs, to abide by her wishes. She died July 28, 1677. Her will, recorded in vol. i., part first, p. 176, New Haven Probate Records, is as follows:

"The last will of Elizabeth Rose widdow N. Haven deceased.

Know all whom it may concern that I Elizabeth Rose of New Haven widdow being weak in body yet of competent sound understanding and memory doe make and ordain this my last will and testament in manner and form following; committing my soule into ye hands of Jesus Christ my redemer and my body to a descent buriall according to ye discretion of my executors hereafter to be named; I dispose of my outward estate as followeth. Imps. I doe give and bequeath unto my two sons John Potter and Samll. Potter twenty shillings a piece. Item. To my son John Parker my house he lives in with all my land and meadow and all the rights & priveledges thereunto belonging. Item. to my daughter Brooks twenty shillings. Item. to my daughter Hall my small bible, and to my daughter cooke my best sute of apparrell. Item. to all my grandchildren twelve pence a piece. Item. After all my debts & legacyes be paid and other necessary expenses discharged my will is that ye remainder of my estate be equally divided between my three daughters Mary, Hope, & Lydia. And I doe desire and appoint my two sons John Potter and John Parker joint Executors of this my last will and testament and I doe allow them to have out of my estate ten shillings a piece for their care and paynes therein. And I doe hereby revoke all former wills and declare and publish this to bee my last will and testament. In witness whereof I have hereunto sett my hand and seal this three and twentyeth day of July one thousand six hundred and seventy seven, 1677, signed and sealed in ye presence of ——— but dyed before signing and sealing."

The inventory of her estate amounted to £49. 11s. 09d.

Brunson in his history of Waterbury says, that Samuel Blakesley's wife Hannah was dau. of William Potter, but the will of Elizabeth Rose (who was formerly John Potter's wife), made July 23, 1677, about six months after widow Hannah Blakesley m. Henry Brooks, names her "daughter Brooks," which conclusively proves that she was the dau. of John and Elizabeth Potter.

Elizabeth Potter's Parker children were:

iv. Mary Parker, bapt. Aug. 27, 1648; m. John Hall of Wallingford, Conn., Dec. 6, 1666.

3. WILLIAM^2 POTTER (Hannah^{1} Beecher), Savage says of Watertown, Mass., probably came in the Abigal from London, in 1635, aged 27, with wife Frances, aged 26, and child Joseph, aged twenty weeks. He removed to New Haven and with his brother John signed the agreement in general town meeting, 1639. "In 1643 brother Potter was fined one shilling for coming late last trayning day," and again was fined for defective arms. He took the oath of allegiance with others in 1644.

In 1645 Brother Potter (William) made an offer, "to carry every man's grist from their howes to the mill & bring it back againe to their howes for 2d pr. bushell."

His name appears in the seating of the meeting house in 1646, and in 1647 he was one of the Fence viewers for the farms this side of East River.

In Oct. 5, 1647, it is recorded, that Mr. Evance hath sold to Wm. Potter 27 and a half acres of meadow as it cometh to him in the towne books, and lyeth in the east meadows between Mr. Crayne and Bro. Punderson and 32 acres of upland. He was one of the appraisers on the estate of Richard Mansfield in 1656. His home lott was on the west side of the Quinipiac River, near the present Cedar Hill railroad station.

His will was made May 19, 1662, and is as follows:

"William Potter disposes of his estate of outward things as followeth. After all Debts discharged my will is that my wife should have her living out of the farms till my Sonne Nathanll, come to ye age of 21 years, then ye sd. i. Joseph, b. in England, in 1635; m. Phebe ———.

ii. Mary, bapt. in New Haven, Aug. 22, 1641; m. about 1657, Joseph Mansfield.

iii. Sarah, bapt. Aug. 22, 1641, but was not a twin with Mary. She m. 1st, Lieut. Robert Foote of Branford, Conn.; 2d, Aaron Blakesley.

vi. Nathaniel, bapt. Dec. 12, 1644; m. April 1, 1675, Elizabeth Howes.

Of these children, Mary and Sarah are not named in their father's will, but Sarah was living Aug. 23, 1706, when "Sarah Blakesley, alias Foote, alias Potter, daughter of William Potter," acknowledges on p. 130, vol. v., New Haven Land Records, the receipt of her full share in her father's estate.

The following is the Potter record from vol. i., in the Registrar's Office, New Haven, Conn.:

JOHN SMITH OF MILFORD, NEW HAVEN COLONY, 1640; AND HIS DESCENDANTS TO THE FIFTH GENERATION.

Compiled by Robert Atwater^{8} (Bassett,^{8} Clark^{8}) Smith,^{8} of New Haven, Conn.

John^{1} Smith [16— -1684], a settler of Milford, Conn., in 1640, is presumed to have been one of several from Hertfordshire who could not leave England in 1637, when the Rev. Peter Prudden and others from that section of England sailed in the company of the Rev. John Davenport, Gov. Theophilus Eaton, Deputy Gov. Stephen Goodyear and other persons from London who came to this country in the ships Hector and Martin [?] in 1637. It is probable he came direct from England to New Haven in one of the three ships which sailed in 1639 to New Haven, viz: the St. Johns, Capt. Russell; the Fair Weather, which reached New Haven before July 28, 1639; and the third ship (name unknown) which arrived soon after, probably bringing the company which settled in Southold, Long Island.—[See Atwater's History of N. H. Colony, pages 162–3.] From the amount of property (£513. 3. 9.) left by him at his death in 1684 (the inventory was taken December, 1684), it is probable that he belonged to a family of some wealth in England. It has been suggested that he may have been one of the Smiths of Haddon Hall, some of whom came to this country. He married Grace Hawley (born ——, 16—), who died in 1690. The will of Mrs. Grace Smith is recorded in Vol. 2, page 90, of the New Haven Probate Records. It is dated Nov. 26, 1689. She gives her property of £61. 11. 7. to her four children. There is no inventory to be found. Children:

2. i. Ephraim,^{2} bap. Oct. 12, 1644; d. May, 1712; m. Abigail Briscoe.
3. ii. John, bap. Aug. 27, 1646; d. Jan. 8, 1732; m. Phebe Canfield.
iii. Mary, bap. Jan. 7, 1648; d. December, 1691; m. Oct. 29, 1667, Dr. Abel Gunn (b. June, 1643, d. ——, 1688), son of Dr. Jasper Gunn (1606–1670) of Milford. Dr. "Abell" Gunn's will, dated May 11, 1688, is found on page 7 of Vol. 2, N. H. Prob. Rec.; an inventory is indexed as on page 11, but cannot be found on that page. He gives his property to his wife, Mary Gunn; no children are mentioned.
iv. Ebenezer, bap. Nov. 10, 1650; d. young.
v. Mercy, bap. Dec. 5, 1652; d. May 2, 1670.
4. vi. Mehitable, b. March 25, 1655; d. ——, 17—; m. Edward Camp, Jan. 15, 1673-4.

2. Ephraim^{2} Smith (1644–1712), son of John^{1} Smith the Settler, removed to Derby, Conn. He married Abigail Briscoe of Milford.

No will is recorded. The inventory was taken June 13, 1712. The probate records are in Vol. 3, pages 50, 61, 80, 99 and 119. On page 80 is given the division of the property among the children; only John is mentioned; probably the wife and the daughter, Ruth Briscoe, were dead at that time. Ruth's portion of £56 is given to the daughter, Ruth Briscoe; Mercy's portion is given to her husband, Samuel Gunn, who was appointed executor; no mention is made of Ephraim, who did not die until December, 1712. The estate amounted to £226 3. 7. The History of Derby states that Ephraim Smith (1644–1712) died without leaving any children; this is incorrect. Children:

5. i. JOHN,[3] b. ——, 1672; d. May 31, 1749; m. Mary ——.
6. ii. MERCY, b. ——, 1674; d. Aug. 11, 1750; m. Lieut. Samuel Gunn, Nov. 11, 1698.
7. iii. EPHRAIM, b. ——, 16—; d. December, 1712; m. Susannah ——.
8. iv. RUTH, b. ——, 16—; d. 17—; m. Samuel Briscoe.

3. Sergeant JOHN[2] SMITH (1646–1732) (John[1]), son of John Smith the settler, lived in Milford. He married, Jan. 23, 1672–3, Phebe Camfield (born May 8, 1656, died May 3, 1730), daughter of Sergeant Thomas Camfield (died 1689) and Phebe (Crane) Camfield of Milford. No will or inventory of estate can be found in the New Haven Probate Records. Their tomb-stones can be found in the Milford Cemetery; they are recorded in the "Tomb-stones of Milford." Children:

9. i. JOHN,[3] b. June 18, 1674; d. May 14, 1751; m. Ruth Briscoe.
10. ii. THOMAS, b. March 7, 1677; m. Hannah Camp.
11. iii. SAMUEL, b. Oct. 18, 1679; m. Rachel Lambert [?].
12. iv. EBENEZER, b. March 31, 1683; d. Nov. 4, 1744; m. Sarah Collins, Jan. 3, 1710–11.
v. JOSEPH, bap. Nov. 29, 1685; died young.
vi. ABIAH, bap. March, 1686; born and lived in Milford. No further records up to the present time. Her name was given to two of her nieces: family 12 No. iii., and family 14 No. iii.
13. vii. NATHAN, bap. September, 1689; m. Hannah Tibbals.
14. viii. JOSEPH, bap. April 15, 1694; m. Mary Clark.

4. MEHITABLE[2] SMITH (John[1]), born 1655, lived in Milford. She married, Jan. 15, 1673, Edward Camp (born 1650, died March, 1721), son of Edward and Mary Camp of New Haven. The will of Edward Camp of Milford, made March 11, 1721, is in Vol. 5 of N. H. Prob. Rec., on pages 56–7; the inventory on page 65, taken March 29, 1721. He gives his property to "wife Elizabeth" (a second wife) and his three children Samuel and John Camp and daughter Sarah Boardman. How many of these children were the children of Mehitable Smith is not yet known. Child:

i. —— CAMP.[3]

5. JOHN[3] SMITH (Ephraim,[2] John[1]) probably resided in Derby. He married Mary ——, who died June 12, 1745. In the will of John Smith of Derby, made Jan. 27, 1746, in N. H. Prob. Rec., Vol. 7, pages 485–8 and 646, are mentioned the four sons given below and "daughter Mary, wife of Ephraim Smith." Inventory taken June 17, 1749. Children:

i. THOMAS.[4]
ii. JOSIAH.
iii. DANIEL.
iv. JONATHAN.
v. MARY, m. Ephraim Smith.

6. Mercy^3 Smith (Ephraim,^{2} John^1) married Nov. 11, 1698, Lieut. Samuel Gunn (born Jan. 15, 1669, died Sept. 10, 1749), son of Jebomah and Sarah (Lane) Gunn (1641) of Milford. In her will, dated Milford, Sept. 28, 1750, recorded in N. H. Prob. Rec. Oct. 8, 1750, in Vol. 7, pages 668–70, she gives £100 to each of her three sons, Samuel, Lazarus and Isaiah, and other property to her daughters, Abigail Riggs, Sarah Northrop and Mary Ford. Children:

i. Abagail^4 Gunn, b. March, 1699; d. ——, 17—; m. Samuel Riggs of Derby.
ii. Samuel^4 Gunn, b. Jan. 15, 1701; d. Jan. 8, 1756; m. Sarah Clark.
iii. Sarah^4 Gunn, b. February, 1703; d.——, 1780; m. Ephraim Northrop, Nov. 26, 1730.

and Willard. Mr. Armstrong has held the office of township trustee and has always been a stalwart Democrat since casting his first vote for Franklin Pierce. Throughout his career he has been honorable, straightforward and energetic, a man whom to know is to esteem and respect. His life illustrates the power of diligence in the active affairs of life, and now with a competency carefully secured for his declining years he is enabled to spend the evening of life in quiet and well earned rest.

CHARLES A. PEARCE.

The office of sheriff is the highest executive office within the gift of the people of any county. It is an office of responsibility, demanding in its incumbent not only first-class business ability but integrity in the highest degree. Franklin county, Ohio, has had many good sheriffs, but it has had none who filled the office more efficiently or more entirely to the satisfaction of the general public than it is being filled at this time by Charles A. Pearce.

Mr. Pearce is a native of Columbus and was born on Christmas day, 1854, a son of Grafton and Alvina (Auter) Pearce. He received his primary education in the public schools of the city and at a private school. After putting aside his text-books he entered the service of the Columbus Buggy Company, with whom he remained for twenty-four years. For many years as a Republican he has been identified with local and state politics and has done much important work for his party. In November, 1899, he was elected the sheriff of the county and he assumed the duties of his office in January, 1900. He is a thirty-second-degree Mason and also a member of the Odd Fellows order, the Knights of Pythias and the order of Elks.

Mr. Pearce has made his own way in the world to a position of trust and responsibility among his fellow men, and it may be said of him as truly as of any other man in the best sense of the term; and those who know best how he gained his present place know how well and truly he deserves it; and leading men of Columbus, irrespective of party, rejoice with him in his success.

RODNEY R. COOKE.

Rodney R. Cooke, deceased, was born on the old Cooke homestead in Clinton township, Franklin county, on the 26th of February, 1832. He was a son of Rodney Cooke and Laura (Cowles) Cooke, was a pioneer of the county and was reared upon his father's farm, obtaining his preliminary education in the district schools and in Otterbein University, where he pursued a partial course before attaining his majority. He afterward followed farming and school-teaching until his enlistment in the Civil war, on the 22d of February, 1864, for three years or during the war. He was assigned to Company G, of the Fifty-seventh Ohio Volunteer Infantry, and in March following he joined his regiment, which was then doing service in Kentucky. He participated in the battle of Snake Creek Gap, on the 8th of May; Resaca, from the 13th to the 16th of May; Dallas, May 25; Kenesaw Mountain, July 9; and the battle of Atlanta, on the 26th of July. He was also in several skirmishes, and about the 1st of September, 1864, was taken ill and sent to the hospital in the rear of Atlanta. He was afterward transferred to various hospitals until he arrived at Bedloe's island, New York, and later was sent to Hilton Head, South Carolina, where he remained until the close of the war. He then participated in the grand review at Washington, in May, 1865. He served with the First Brigade, Second Division, Fifteenth Army Corps, under Generals Sherman, McPherson and Logan, while Captain James Wilson, of Findlay, Ohio, had command of the company, and Colonel A. V. Rice of the regiment. He was honorably discharged June 27, 1865, but returned an invalid from the war. Broken down in health, he was largely incapacitated for performing manual labor upon the farm. However, he accomplished his work as well as he could, a resolute will enabling him to perform the task.

On the 24th of May, 1860, Mr. Cooke was married to Miss Cloe Williams, a daughter of William and Lucinda (Phelps) Williams, of Delaware county, Ohio. By this marriage was born a daughter, Luella Z., who fills a position in the patent office in Washington, D. C. Mrs. Cooke's father was a native of Pennsylvania, born in Bedford county, where his early life was passed. In 1800 his parents came to Ohio, settling in Fairfield county, near Lancaster, during the early childhood of their son. In 1807 they took up their abode in Genoa, Delaware county, Ohio, where a permanent home was made. William Williams was a son of Rev. John and Margaret (Taylor) Williams. The former was a chaplain in the colonial army during the Revolutionary war. He was born in Maryland and was of Welsh descent, his father having probably been born in the little rock-ribbed country of Wales, becoming the founder of his branch of the family in America. A minister of the Methodist Episcopal church, Rev. Mr. Williams became one of the early itinerant preachers in Ohio. He also followed farming and purchased fourteen hundred and ninety-six acres of land in Genoa township, Delaware county. He had nine children, all of whom have now passed away. Thomas, the eldest son, was a babe when his parents removed from Maryland to Bedford county, Pennsylvania. They traveled on horseback, carrying the baby, "Tom," in a basket. Out of this he rolled to the ground, when the mother exclaimed, "Laws 'a' massy! my baby is killed!" but the little fellow was not hurt at all. The other children are: Linda, born January 3, 1785; William, August 23, 1787; Martha, September 3, 1791; Elizabeth, October 22, 1793; Margaret, March 10, 1795; James, in 1797; Nancy, August 16, 1801; and Mary, August 28, 1803. Rev. Mr. Williams, the father, died April 7, 1814, at the age of fifty-seven years, two months and nine days, and his wife passed away February 13, 1833, at the age of seventy-five years and seventeen days.

William Williams, the father of Mrs. Cooke, was married, in Ohio, to Lucinda, a daughter of Edward and Azubah (Moore) Phelps, who were pioneers of Franklin county, having located in Blendon township in 1806, entering land there from the government. They removed westward from Windsor, Connecticut, and made a permanent home in Blendon township, becoming identified with the best interests of the county and with all lines of substantial improvement. Mr. and Mrs. Phelps had eight children, namely: Edward, born May 10, 1790; Abraham, August 16, 1791; Azubah, May 19, 1794; Lewis, January 10, 1796; Lucinda, January 28, 1797; Cloe, May 30, 1799; William, September 26, 1802; and Homer M., February 9, 1812. The last named was a native of Blendon township. Edward Phelps was a successful farmer and carried on agricultural pursuits throughout his active business career, dying August 10, 1840, in his eighty-first year, and his wife passed away October 18, 1849, in Delaware county, Ohio, at the age of eighty-five years. When eighty years of age she was immersed, becoming a member of the Disciple church.

William Phelps, of Tewkesbury, England, came to America in the good ship Mary and John in 1630, and was the first settler of Windsor, Connecticut, 1635. Edward, son of Timothy, son of Cornelius, son of Timothy, son of William and Mary (Dover) Phelps, with his wife, Azubah (Moore) Phelps, and sons, Abram, Edward and William, and daughters, Lucinda, Chloe and Azubah, were the first settlers of Blendon, Franklin county, Ohio, locating there in August, 1806, with Isaac and Ursula Griswold.

Edward Phelps left Windsor, Connecticut, with his wife and six children, and his wife's father and mother, Simeon and Hannah (Barber) Moore, also with Isaac Griswold, his wife and two sons and their families. They started for Blendon, Ohio, arriving at Worthington on the 24th of August, 1806. The journey was made with ox teams and two months passed before they reached their destination. In October of the same year Mr. and Mrs. Phelps removed to Blendon township, two and a half miles further east, their home being near Alum creek. They located in the midst of the forest, and for more than four years had no neighbors nearer than Worthington. The fourteen persons constituting the party on the westward journey were the first white settlers of Blendon township. They were obliged to cut a road from Granville to Worthington, a distance of twenty miles, and were prominently identified with the pioneer development.

After his marriage William Williams located on the home farm in Genoa township, Delaware county, Ohio, where he and his wife remained throughout the residue of their days. They had fifteen children, five now living, namely: Amos, a resident of Meriden, Kansas; Alma, the wife of Harry Grinnell, a resident of Kankakee, Illinois; Mrs. Cloe Cooke, of Clintonville, Ohio; Lucinda L., the widow of William Vincent, of Delaware county, Ohio; and Victor A., who resides on the old homestead in that county. Those who have passed away are: Homer, Milton, Miles, Emily, Edward, Harriet, Mary, Harlow, Corintha and Virgil. The last named was a member of Company D, Twentieth Ohio Volunteer Infantry. He enlisted September 24, 1861, for three years, and saw active service, participating in a number of the most hotly contested engagements of the war, in one of which—Champion Hills—he received a wound on the forehead from a spent ball. This subsequently caused his death, which occurred June 19, 1875. He was a member of Galena Lodge, No. 104, I. O. O. F. He participated in the battles at Fort Donelson, Pittsburg Landing, Corinth, Iuka, Metamora Cross Roads, Grand Junction, Grand Gulf, Raymond, Champion Hills, siege of Vicksburg and others. He was a brave and valiant soldier and performed every duty with that care and fidelity which stamped him as one of the nation's truest and most loyal defenders. As a citizen, son, brother and husband he discharged every duty with fidelity similar to that which he displayed when following the old flag that he loved so well.

On the 25th of May, 1865, he married Emeline Cox, and unto them were born three children: Ione Cox, who was born January 8, 1868, and was married, in 1886, to Ira H. Steele; Bertha Phelps, who was born July 15, 1871, and became the wife of George W. Page; and Gilbert Hoover, who was born March 12, 1873, and died January 11, 1875. Victor Williams, the twin brother of Virgil Williams, was born in Genoa, Ohio, August 16, 1839, and was married, September 12, 1865, to Priscilla Martin. Their children were as follows: Lucinda, who was born October 24, 1866; Edward, born June 4, 1871, and died two days later; Clayton Gilbert, born August 24, 1872, and married Elizabeth Haines; Effie Fayette, born May 8, 1875, and was married, April 29, 1897, to Charles F. McCarty; Virgil Clifton, who was born August 31, 1878; and Clarence Victor, born on the 31st of May, 1884.

Mrs. Williams, the mother of Mrs. Rodney R. Cooke, died November 25, 1873. Both she and her husband held membership in the Methodist Episcopal church and they always entertained the ministers at their home. Mr. Williams was a soldier in the war of 1812.

Simeon Moore, Jr., was born March 20, 1760, and was married to Hannah Cooke, who died October 27, 1796. His second wife bore the maiden name of Elizabeth Andrews, and after her death he wedded Mrs. Roxana Meacham. He served with the Connecticut troops at the battle of Bunker Hill and then returned home, afterward enlisting in Captain Ben Hammond's company, receiving an honorable discharge at the close of the war. He then entered the privateer's service, in which he remained for a year or two. On the 7th of June, 1807, he became a resident of Blendon township, Franklin county, Ohio, where he purchased five hundred acres of land. He served as a justice of the peace of the township from 1810 until 1815. On the journey to Ohio he had been accompanied by his wife, her brother Benjamin, his son Simeon and daughter Phœbe, and five of his wife's children by her first husband. He died June 26, 1825. The children of his first marriage were Polly, Lovina, Wealthy, Simeon and Hannah. By the second marriage the children were Elhannan W., Thomas J. and Phœbe, and the only child of the third marriage was Benjamin, who was the first white child born in Blendon township, his natal day being June 11, 1807.

It will thus be seen that the ancestors of Mrs. Cooke have been prominent factors in the improvement, development and upbuilding of Franklin county. She is a member of the United Brethren church, with which she has long been connected, and is a consistent Christian woman. She is a member of the Ladies of the Grand Army of the Republic, having on its organization joined Colonel Ellsworth Circle, No. 11, of Columbus. For two terms, of one year each, she served as its president and has also been its chaplain by election, secretary by appointment two years, and department chaplain of the L. of the G. A. R. one year. She is a member of the Rebekah Order of the Odd Fellows, belonging to Chidsey Lodge, No. 399, held the office of noble grand one term, was chaplain three terms and deputy three years. She was then elected for a fourth year, but declined to serve.

Mrs. Cooke is a lady of prominence, fearless, sincere and earnest in whatever she champions. She is loyal to the defenders of her country, and her chief pleasure is to perpetuate in the minds of the young the gratitude and honor which is so justly deserved by those who followed the starry banner upon the battle-fields of the south. Her husband died October 28, 1886, having been confined to his bed eleven years, and his sickness and death resulting from his army experience. His was a record of a noble and useful life, consistent with the right, and wherever he was known he was held in the highest regard. In many respects his career was worthy of emulation, and among the representative men of Franklin county he well deserves mention.

WILLIAM EDGARDSON MEYER.

This is embphatically an age in which the young man is prominent. He is a leader in business, in the professions, in religious works and in politics. Columbus, Ohio, has a good representation of young men, and not the least popular of them is the well-known young Republican whose name is above.

William Edgardson Meyer is a son of Charles and Louise (Bowman) Meyer, and was born near Steubenville, Jefferson county, Ohio, in 1867, and at the age of thirteen was brought to Columbus by his parents, who took up their residence here in 1880. Mr. Meyer began his education at Steubenville and finished it at Columbus. He began his active career in the shops of the Columbus Buggy Company, where he learned carriage painting in all its branches, and for several years he has been a contractor for house painting and as such has won deserved success.

From boyhood Mr. Meyer has taken an interest in politics. At the age of sixteen he was a drummer for the Southside Republican Club, which won a banner for being the best drilled Republican club in the state. Before he was twenty-one he painted the Thirteenth ward Republican banner. He has been a delegate to state and county conventions of his party, a member of the Republican county executive committee, secretary of the First Ward ardent supporter of the Democratic party. He has efficiently served as township trustee six years, and has always faithfully discharged any duty devolving upon him whether public or private.

H. C. COOKE.

Prominent among the business men of Franklin county is numbered H. C. Cooke, whose connection with various enterprises and industries have been of decided advantage to this section of the state, promoting its material welfare in no uncertain manner. In business affairs he is energetic, prompt and notably reliable, and generally carries forward to successful completion whatever he undertakes.

Mr. Cooke is not only a representative of one of the honored pioneer families of this county, but also comes of good old colonial stock. His ancestors came originally from Herefordshire, England, and the first to come to America was Henry Cooke, who was known to be living in Plymouth, Massachusetts, before the year 1640. His sons were Isaac, who remained in Plymouth; John, who settled in Middletown, Connecticut; and Henry and Samuel, who located in Wallingford, Connecticut. Samuel moved to New Haven in 1663 and to Wallingford in 1667. They were among the first planters, tanners and shoemakers of the Nutmeg state.

The founder of the family in Ohio was Roswell Cooke, who was born in Farmington, Connecticut, December 6, 1764, and was the third son of Amos and Rhoda (Hosford) Cooke. At the age of sixteen he enlisted in the Colonial army, and served throughout the remainder of the Revolutionary war. On the 21st of October, 1788, he married Rachel Newell, of Farmington, and in 1800, with his wife and five children, two sons being married at that time, he left his Connecticut home and started for the territory of Ohio by wagons, which carried their worldly possessions. During the journey, which lasted six weeks, they met with several adventures. While passing through Pennsylvania, the Dutch teamsters with their big wagons often refused the right of way to the travelers, calling their vehicles "dammed Yankee carts," and fights resulted with victory to the Yankees, as is usually the case in any contest. On their arrival in Columbus that city contained but one log cabin. The two oldest sons, Chauncey and Rodney took up land six miles north of where the state house now stands, their farms adjoining. The country at that time was densely wooded, through which roamed the Indians and wild beasts. On one occasion the mother of our subject saw a large black bear devouring a pig near her cabin. The brothers both erected houses out of round, unhewn logs, with puncheon floors and primitive fire places, with mud-and-stick chimneys. They lived in true pioneer style while clearing their land and transforming it into productive fields. At first their field products were light, but the trusty rifle supplied the deficiency, Rodney Cooke being a good marksman. In course of time the land became highly cultivated, and upon the farms which they developed the brothers spent the remainder of their lives. They were energetic and enterprising men, and one of the first grist and saw mills in the county was constructed by them on the Olentangy about 1827, now known as the Weisheimer mill. They also operated a distillery, which, though erected later than the mill, was one of the first in the county. Roswell Cooke died in Delaware, Ohio, December 27, 1827.

Rodney Cooke, who was the father of our subject, was born in Wallingford, Connecticut, in 1793, and was married to Laura Cowles. He became prominent in public affairs, and during militia days served as colonel of a regiment. He also participated in the war of 1812. He died in 1833, and his widow, who long survived him, passed away at the age of seventy-three years. Having learned the tailor's trade in Connecticut, she managed to support her children after her husband's death, keeping her family together until they were able to care for themselves. The youngest child was born three months after the father's death. All reached years of maturity but only two are now living: Demon P., a resident of Columbus; and H. C., of this review. Those deceased were Esther D., wife of L. J. Weaver; Roswell, who married Lorinda Skeels; Helen, wife of John Good; Rosalia P., wife of John Webster; Rachel N., wife of William E. Buck; Laura, wife of Lester Roberts; and Rodney Romoaldo, who married Cloe Williams. In religious conviction the entire family was of the Universalist belief.

A native of this county, H. C. Cooke, was born near Olentangy Park, March 14, 1825, and his early days were spent in a way common with pioneer boys. He attended the subscription schools conducted in the primitive log school house, and later spent several terms at the old Otterbein Seminary in Westerville, Ohio, thus becoming well fitted for life's responsible duties. He was early inured to the arduous task of clearing the wild land and doing other hard work upon a new farm. He followed teaching for some time, his first school being in what is now North Columbus, where he received ten dollars per month; his second being at the Harbor, then called Rogue's Harbor. In his home district he taught for several terms.

Mr. Cooke was married, May 20, 1852, to Miss Abigail A. Taylor, who died suddenly May 7, 1893, at the age of sixty-three years. To them were born seven children, namely: Clara, wife of Wellington Webster, of Findlay, Ohio; Flora, wife of J. L. Armstrong, of Clinton township, this county; Albert Clement, of Columbus, who married Lulu Brown; Edwin A., who married Ella Haines; Mary E., deceased wife of David Maize; Alice A., wife of Charles Hess, of Clinton township; and Harry Lester, deceased.

After his marriage Mr. Cooke located on the old homestead farm in Clinton township, and as his means permitted he purchased the interests of the other heirs in the place. Eventually all of the Cooke land entered from the government came into his possession, and he now owns three hundred acres of good land, mostly under cultivation and highly improved. In addition to his farming interests Mr. Cooke has been identified with other enterprises, the chief among which has been the stock business, probably handling a larger amount of stock than any other shipper in Franklin county. About eighteen years ago he abandoned that business, and since then has been connected with A. G. Grant, under the firm name of Cooke, Grant & Cooke, as contractors in the construction of heavy masonry for railroad bridges, etc., in which undertaking he has met with success. The business is now managed by his son, A. C. Cooke. He was one of the promoters of the Worthington & Columbus street-car line, and served as treasurer of the company. Always active and energetic, he has undoubtedly successfully handled more lines of business than any other man in Franklin county, and is deserving of prominent mention among the leading and representative citizens of this section of the state. Politically he has always been a stanch supporter of the Republican party, and in religious belief is a Universalist.

LEWIS HUFFMAN.

Among the well known family names of Jackson township, Franklin county, Ohio, is that of our subject, his parents having settled there as early as 1834. Lewis Huffman was born in Jackson township, on October 9, 1839, and is a son of Henry Huffman, a native of Pennsylvania, although of German descent. He engaged in farming upon the land now occupied by his son, although at that time the only residence was a log cabin. Here Henry died, at the age of fifty-nine. His marriage to Catherine Spanghn, also a native of Pennsylvania, took place in Jackson township, where Mrs. Huffman died at the early age of thirty, leaving three children: John, of Columbus; Lewis, and Susan Haynes. Mr. Huffman was again married, his second wife being Mrs. Catherine Meach, and they became the parents of the following children: Joseph, deceased; Henry, whose sketch appears upon another page of this work; Catherine, deceased; George, a resident of Columbus; and Sarah, now the widow of William Rivers. Mr. Henry Huffman was one of the old settlers and took a prominent part in the upbuilding and development of his chosen locality. In politics he was a Whig until the formation of the Republican party.

Lewis Huffman is the second son of the family and was reared in Jackson township and attended school at a log schoolhouse during the short sessions then thought sufficient. At the age of nineteen he was ready to start out in life for himself, and engaged in farming or in any labor that he found to be done; but when the call came for soldiers, at the outbreak of the Civil war, he enlisted in Company B, Third Ohio Volunteer Infantry, for a period of three months. This time was spent at Camp Dennison; but Mr. Huffman was never one to turn his back in the face of duty and immediately re-entered the army, joining Company B, Fifty-fourth Ohio Volunteer Infantry, this occurring in 1861. When his term of service expired he enlisted as a veteran and thus holds an enviable record of having given four years of his life to the service of his country. During this long time he was seriously ill for only two weeks, which he spent in the hospital at Vicksburg, although he took part in some

THE BIRDSALL HOUSE
Birdsall, England

ERECTED, as nearly as can be determined from old records, in the year 410 A.D. (over 15½ centuries ago!) as a Monk's House, known as "Brettshall" or "Brideshall House", and later as at present as the "BIRDSALL HOUSE", this spacious and imposing mansion resembling a palatial French Chateau, has survived the ravages of time, appearing today in a well-preserved condition as shown in the above picture.

At the extreme right are the ruins of the old Church, which had been rebuilt following destruction by the Romans in the 12th Century of the original Church, built at the same time as the BIRDSALL HOUSE.

WHERE WE CAME FROM

Achievements Ltd., a genealogy company in Canterbury, England made the list of names on Pages 87-88 from published wills made between 1550 and 1650. I requested them to do this in an effort to identify HENRY BIRDSALL who went to America in 1632. After a reasonable search they included every name they could find that sounded any thing like Birdsall.

There are four basic ways of spelling this name as shown here. The names are no relation to each other. They came from entirely different souices. Each name has a few variations which are really errors in spelling made by some one when correct spelling was neglected. The four basic names are as follows: The first syllable in each is pronounced a little differently.

Birdsall

Birdshaw
Birdesaul

Burdsall
Bursall
Bursell

Burstall
Birstall

The name BIRDSALL is described more fully elsewhere in this book. It started at or near the town of Birdsall, England.

The name BURDSALL must have began in Nottinghamshire and a few descendants migrated northward along the river into the Southern part of Yorkshire County, Harthill Parish. They apparently followed the rivers, some going to York and some to Birstall. The first Burdsall in America was a sea captain and it is not known whether he stayed or went back with his ship. It is said he came from Birstall. English people have always been rather mixed with other peoples and although I am far from being a linguist, the name Burdsall looks to me like a German name. The correct pronunciation should be Boord-sall.

The BURSTALL tribes were all in the Holderness area on the coast of what used to be called the German Ocean, now the North Sea. Like the Burdsalls, they also have a German spelling and could very well be the descendants of shipwrecked German sailors. Probably one of their travelling members followed the Humber River and one of its branches to the place now called Birstall where the name was changed to a more English sound.

The BEARDSALLS it is noted are all located near Sheffield. They probably migrated along the Mersey River from Buerdsall in Rochdale Parish, Lancashire County, some branching off toward Dewsbury and some to the Peake District in Derbyshire. Since they came from the vicinity of Liverpool, a seaport for ships to Ireland, it would account for the fact that every Irishman I ever met thought my name was Beardsall. I included the name BIRDSELL in this basic name because they came from London and were connected in some small way to the Royal Family, perhaps one became a rich and politically influential merchant in Liverpool or Manchester.

COAT OF ARMS

CREST A. This Coat of Arms belongs to Lt.Col.William and Lt.Col.Richard Birdsall of Meadowvale, Ontario, Page 80. It is on their grave stones and it was issued to them for services to the Crown. What service or year, I do not know.

CREST B. In the early 1700s some of the colonists wanted to start a system of heraldry in America and when there was a possibility that it might be started, there was a rush of colonists to the printers to have one designed and printed as very few colonists in the New England States were authorized to use a family crest. Crest B is one of those printed at that time. Some one, perhaps in the 4th Generation, could not find the name Birdsall in the Crest Dictionary and since Burchall was as close as he could come to it, he used the description of Burchall Crest and the date 1632 being the date his ancestor came to America. It is not the Burchall Crest much less an authorized Birdsall crest. Although the description fits the Burchall Crest, there is considerable difference in the pictures, furthermore, according to the encyclopedias, there is no connection between the names Burchall and Birdsall. This coat of arms should be considered as an interesting antique.

CREST C. The history of this Coat of Arms is unknown to me at this time. The shield with the Dragon-fly thereon is in Fairbairn's Crest Dictionary under the name Brassiers which may or may not mean anything. A crest is the shield only and does not include the surrounding designs. There are two ancestors who could have earned this coat of arms--one is Robert de Briddesale who was a knight, Page 2, or Robert Birdsall of Tadcaster, Page 105 who was killed at Tournai, France, 1513.

A Coat of arms could be inherited by the eldest son (or daughter if there were no son). Other sons had to earn it and if they were not entirely loyal to the King or Church, it is unlikely they would have a Coat of Arms. Our Henry Birdsall may or may not have had a Coat of Arms but since he was one of the pilgrims who came to America for religious freedom and was loyal to God only and not to the King and Church, it is not likely he earned it.

Since printing this page I have received the following statement from a Heraldry company in England regarding CREST C. "There is no record of this coat of arms and we can only conclude that (... company) are guilty of providing an 'invention'."

FAMILY TRAITS

The French Huguenots, of whom de Briddesale was a part, refused to be enslaved by a tyrannical government of either the Teutons or French so they moved to England. The Quakers and people of similar convictions were loyal to God and not a mortal man and they too refused to be enslaved by a tyrannical government, so they came to America. Later on the people of America refused to be enslaved by the British tyrannical King and they fought the Revolutionary War. Many Birdsalls joined in that fight against tyranny but like the rest of the people a certain percentage of them could not see tyranny.

Tyranny is not felt by the average person until he does some thing that seems perfectly all right to him but some bureaucrat in the government looks upon it with horror. When that happens, it is too late to do any thing about it, you are a slave to government tyranny.

The American Revolution must have been a bitter controversial issue that divided families. Long Island and New Jersey had many Loyalists and their patriotism to the British Crown is understandable but like so many people today they could not see the tyranny of a government. The Birdsalls who went to New Jersey were undoubtedly influenced by their neighbor's indifference to tyranny, and Oyster Bay Long Island, was the Colonial Headquarters for enlistment in the British Army, so the sentiment there must have been great. Even so, most of the Birdsalls left Long Island for central New York State to escape the British tyranny, while the Loyalists were so patriotic to the British King they did not mind the tyranny.

When the Colonists won the Revolution, there was the problem of accepting the new government or becoming unwanted aliens in a foreign land, and in order to urge the solution of that problem immediately, the property of the Loyalists was confiscated and given to patriots of the new government. Therfore, descendants of Lt. Col. Benjamin Birdsall became land owners in New York while his 3rd cousin Benjamin of Long Island moved to New Brunswick.

During our Civil War the controversy was extremely bitter over the right of the states to secede. Negro slavery was a contributing factor and government tyranny had little to do with it. Fortunately, I think, every Birdsall family but one was in the North. That one went to New Orleans some years earlier, the political situation making no difference. I am sorry to say, there was one Birdsall who had such little foresight he named his son Thaddeus after Thaddeus Stevens, the man who guided the tyrannical Reconstruction Act through Congress.

Once again our nation is being divided between those who would accept government tyranny, called communism or socialism, and those who oppose it. In other days people escaped by going elsewhere, but today there is no other place to go. They will either have to accept tyranny or defeat those who would enslave the people. Of course the U. S. S. R. can do much material damage, but the worst damage is the spiritual breakdown coming from within. The spiritual damage is caused by the indifference of the people to a tyrannical government.. I do hope the Birdsalls get on the side of freedom. Worship only the spiritual God, never a mortal man.

IN ENGLAND

In order to understand the Birdsall genealogy in England, it is necessary to review some European history.

In the First Century, A. D., the Roman Empire covered the whole of Western Europe as far north as the Cheviot Hills between England and Scotland. The Romans occupied England in 142 A.D. and built a wall on the Cheviot Hills to protect them from the Scots.

Also in the First Century the large peninsula on the northwest corner of France was inhabited by five tribes of people. At that time France was called Gaul and the peninsula was called Armorica. Celtic people came over from England and joined the five tribes of Gauls and changed the name from Armorica to Bretagne. The resulting mixture of languages became known as Bretton.

Two or three generations later, in the latter part of the Fifth Century, when the Roman Empire began to crumble, the Saxons (Germans) invaded Gaul and began to rule the Brettons. A tribe of these Brettons fled France and went to Scotland, landing in the Firth of Clyde and settled on or near the Cheviot Hills, the boundary between England and Scotland. The French refugees became known as Huguenots.

At Malton, England, of East Riding Yorkshire, just south of the boundary, there was a large Roman camp and a Roman Church called Watton Abbey. All records kept at Watton Abbey were destroyed during the Reformation but it is known that Watton Abbey started another church near there, locally called Bretts Slope on account of the Bretts living there. The old Roman Church was transformed into a Roman Catholic Church some time after the Nicae Council Meeting in Rome, in the year 325 A. D. The change of religion gave new life to the Roman Church and it is therefore likely that the Watton Abbey expanded its influence by building the new church on Bretts Hill about 410 A. D., which is the year the Romans left.

The church and Monk's House built about 410, was destroyed during the 12th Century and another church was built at the same place. The monks living there administered to the people of the vicinity. Parts of the old Roman wall can be seen to this day north of this house. Also on these hills can be seen the remains of the round graves used in the stone age. The Church and Monk's House was known as Bretts-Hala or Briddesal House which means the "House on Brett's Slope". It is now known as the Birdsall House and is owned by Lord Middleton.

According to Lord Middleton the house was owned for centuries by the Sotheby family. This family never kept records to amount to any thing so a more complete history of the house cannot be written. The present owner says the earliest mention of the Sotheby family was 1569 but it is not known when they acquired the house. Lord Middleton's great great great grandfather, the Honorable Thomas Willoughby, M. P., married an heiress of the Sotheby family in 1719 and thereby acquired the house. He met the heiress when he became lost one dark stormy night and asked for a night's lodging.

IN ENGLAND

After William the Conqueror of Normandy invaded England, he had a statistical survey made of all England in the year 1086. This survey was published and is known as the Domesday Book. The book shows that only about 20% of the people had more than one name, the given name, Second names were used as descriptive names to distinguish between individual land owners with the same given name. Furthermore, in those days few people could write and of those few each had his own individual way of spelling, which makes it quite impossible to trace family names any further than about 1300.

After so many centuries it is practically impossible to find much evidence of a family that never attained any great distinction in their hey day. However, Mrs.Doris Chinn of Dayton, Ohio, found the following inscription on a plaque in the ruins of the Birdsall house:

"The Tomb of Lady de Briddesale--

"The recumbent figure is clothed in 14th Century costume and surrounded by kneeling figures. Above her head is a symbolic representation of the soul ascending, supported by two angels. The family lived in Birdsall in the 13th and 14th Century.

"Robert de Briddesale held one knight's fee in Birdsall of William de Pagenal. Gilbert de Briddesale held two carucates of the fee of Peter de Mauley. The tomb was removed from the old church (built about 1180) to its present site in 1824. Much damaged, probably during the Reformation.

A carucate is of no definite size. It is a field that can be farmed in one year. "Lady" and "Peter" are probably the Peter and Isabel mentioned in the paragraph below.

In 1086 the Domesday Book gives the place name as Briteshale. In 1110 it was recorded as Bridshala and in 1219 it had become Bridshall and when King Henry III was 15, a Westminster Court case granted some land from Peter and Isabel (no family name) to John of Bridshall, November 2, 1222. Four years later, December 1, 1226, Richard of Brideshale was given a quit-claim deed to a half carucate of land from William Malebisse for which Richard paid 20 shillings.

In one of the earliest translations, probably in the 1300s, of the Domesday Book, six villages were combined for tax purposes and census taking. Langton, Birdsall, Corethorp, Raithorp, Sherburn and Heslerton had a total of 39 carucates of land and 20 ploughs ploughs, totaling 2 miles long and 2 miles broad. Another item in the book was, as I understood it, 2 men, Scard Hund and Chilbert Birdsall, had one manor of 13 carucates to be taxed, with a notation "Nigel has it now but it is waste". Apparently they gave it up for taxes. These villages had other people but they were called boarders. The villages were about two miles apart. In Weaverthorp, about ten miles from the village of Birdsall, a man named Birdsall had 2½ carucates. According to that item the name Birdsall was used in 1086 but whether it was considered a family name, I do not know.

This chart contains a summary of all the information I could find in a period of about 500 years. The generation numbers are a conjecture since I estimated the generation every thirty years. Page 3 Note - Henry (1550) made a will 1625 and left things to William, Thomas and Mary. No mention is made of any son named Henry. Many families name their oldest son after the father and Henry may have had a son Henry Jr who received his share when he left home to go to America. The will was made in 1625 and our Henry is supposed to have left England in 1628, although the records here first record him in 1632. He may have been given his share in order to pay his passage to America. Whether Henry (1585) belongs in that place on the Chart, Page 4, I do not know.

IN AMERICA

GENERATIONS 1 and 2

HENRY BIRDSALL arrived in America, a widower, 1632, near Boston with his daughter Judith, age 13, and son Nathan, age 21. He was a member of the First Church, Salem , and known as Birdsall, 1636. He was registered as a Freeman at Salem, May 2, 1638.

The clerks apparently spelled names as they sounded as other well known names were similarly misspelled. I have used the correct spelling BIRDSALL rather than confuse the issue further by using the Clerk's various spellings.

Judith if her birth date is 1619 and every one does not agree on that, was 13 years old when she arrived in America. She undoubtedly kept house for her father and brother. Her father got into trouble with the Court for "stealing" an Indian girl. This trouble was probably caused by Judith running around with Henry Cook and neglecting her housekeeping duties. I don't think he "stole" the Indian girl. He may have cheated on the wages though. Judith married Henry Cook, in 1639.

Nathan, son of Henry, was 21 years old when he arrived in America, if his birthdate was 1611, and that is one thing every one seems to be agreed upon.. Women were scarce so he did not marry for another 12 years at least, any way he never stayed in one place long enough to get married and he travelled mostly among the indians. He did not marry Temperance Baldwin as Mrs. Bunker first reported in her book. Temperance married Nathan Burwell and I believe Burwell and Birdsall are two different people. Nathan apparently made his living buying land from the indians and selling it to the white people.

Nathan first appears in New Haven, October 4, 1643, when he was taken to Court for taking 13 pounds from Mr. Newman's house. He had worked in his house and had a temptation. He was ordered to pay back double the amount. The next year Nathan was made a Freeholder in New Haven, 1644, by Theosophilus. He was remitted of his defects in the Arme (Army), provided he attend training hitherto. At that time every able-bodied male belonged to the army.

Nathan married about 1645, age about 34. During Nathan's twenties he must have been working in the wilderness where he became likeable to the indians. I can find no trace or record of whom he married. His first son, Benjamin, was born 1646.

Henry Birdsall, Nathan's father apparently lived for a year or two with Nathan in New Haven. I presume to keep him out of trouble during his troubles with Mr. Newman, the army and getting married, and while living there was chosen by the Court of New Haven, December 3, 1944, to keep the Meeting House clean upon all public meetings for 3 pounds 15 shillings a year. "Good" Birdsall, as he was called, probably to identify him from his not-so-good son was paid 3 pounds 17 shillings for work on a bridge.

Henry Birdsall Nathan's father died about July or August, 1651, as his will was proved September 28, 1651. He was then in Salem, Mass. and was about 65 years old. His estate is recorded in the Probate Records of Essex County, Salem, Mass., Vol. 1, Page 123:

Nathan Birdsall, February 16, 1653, conveyed to his brother-in-law, Henry Cook, the lot in Salem which belonged to Nathan's father. A few months later, July 5, 1653, Nathan bought land at East Hampton Long Island.

Registry of Deeds (Salem) Vol. 9, Pages 94-5.
Nathan Birdsall, 1654, five acres of land. I do not know whether he bought or sold five acres in this transaction, but he must have sold it and used the money to make the following transactions:
Southold, L. I. 1660; Westmoreland, 1692; Matinecock, 1664; and Birdsall Swamp at Oyster Bay, 1677. In Matinecock, he was one of seven founders of a settlement they wanted to call Killingworth.

Nathan died 1698 leaving seven sons. See Page 7.

Mr. Rulon of Washington, D. C. He did much research work in the Boston Transcript of 1920-43. Mr. Rulon thinks Henry had three sons, Samuel, Stephen and Nathan; and Nathan had the seven sons, which would add another generation. That would accoumt for the tradition of "three brothers" mentioned in so many biographies, and also it would put the generations closer together, making the boys marry at about 20 years of age instead of about 30 years. I cannot go along with that because it would make the recorded birthdates of the seven brothers all wrong. I do not know where those original dates came from but they seem to be well established by Mrs. Bunker. She wrote the book LONG ISLAND GENEALOGIES. According to many biographies one of the three brothers went south (West Indies) one went to Canada, and the other was Nathan who had the seven boys in Matinecock. Biographies are usually written from some one's memory and they are often wrong. I therefore do not agree with that tradition. Whether Nathan married Temperance Baldwin is a controversial question. Mrs Bunker revised her book for the purpose of correcting herself on that very question. I wish some one would prove it either way.

The records show that Nathan bought five acres of land in New Haven, 1654, but it would seem more likely he sold 5 acres, probably the old home, because he moved to East Hampton, LI, and bought land on the Northwest Road at East Hampton, July 13, 1653. He is next heard from at Southold, L.I. where he purchased some more land. He soon came back to Hempstead, where in 1657 he became one of the first settlers in East Hempstead. He lived for nine years on the north end of B Street, on the east side of the street in East Hempstead.

In the Fall or Winter of 1665-66 seven men, including Nathan, decided to buy land at what is now called Matinecock. They went there as squatters but offered to buy land from the Matinecock Indians. During the time Nathan and his neighbors lived in the Matinecock area the following events occurred:

March 14, 1666 - The Indians sent the governor a letter saying they did not want to sell their land but they would respect the seven families now living at Matinecock. The governor told the inhabitants of Matinecock to agree with the Indians until they could be induced to sell more land.

September 21, 1666 - The Governor R. Nicolls sent a letter to the constable of Hempstead County that he received a petition from the Matinecock Indyans complaining that purchasers of their lands did not pay them. The governor appointed John Underhill as the Indian's Attorney.

MATINECOCK, LONG ISLAND

April 19, 1667 - One of the seven families (Samuel Dayton) wanted to sell 3 of his lots but the governor refused permission so as not to encourage any other family from going against the Indians' wishes.

February 24, 1669 - The people of Matinecock wanted to organize a township and be independent of Hempstead, and to name the town Killingworth. The governor put off his decision until such time as any one from Hempstead should object. He assured them he would allow them to establish the town regardless of objection.

May 27, 1669 - The governor wrote to the officers of Hempstead requesting them to show cause why he should not grant the inhabitants of Killingworth the right to organize a town.

June 6, 1669 - The governor advised the Hempstead men to bring proof that (1) Matinecock was at the disposal of the Indian Tackpowsha ye Marsapeag Sachem. (2) Whether said Sachem did sell Matinecock to Hempstead. (3) Whether said Sachem did consent to sell and if so for what value. (4) and if Mantawkett Sachem by conquest had power to dispose land to Hempstead.

July 13, 1670 - The governor gave permission to Thomas Terry to purchase enough land from the Indians to make five farms at Matinecock. One for himself and one each to Thomas Lovelace, M. Matthias, Nicolls, John Payne and John Alcoke. These were in addition to the original seven.

September 23, 1671 - The Indians objected to the other people. The Justice of Peace at Hempstead called a court. The Indians decided to sell but requested time to think it over. Governor Nicolls had died and Governor Lovelace took his place.

July 4, 1672 - Governor Lovelace told the inhabitants of Matinecock to be discourst in all their dealings so as not to prejudice the Indians against them until some final determination should be made.

August 2, 1672 - Constable Jackson appointed inhabitants of Oyster Bay and Indians to run a dividing line between Oyster Bay, Hempstead and Matinecock.

May 17, 1676, - Indians in Connecticut and Rhode Island were driving the people into the sea and destroying their homes. Boats were sent over to relieve them and bring them to Long Island. More land was purchased by the governor from the Indians, which included three parcells near Muskitoe Cove which is just north of Matinecock. Each parcell was one square mile. The Indians asked the extravagant price of 600 guilders Seawant. Seawant is wumpum beads of the inside of seashells and used as currency among the Indians.

COLONIAL HISTORY

During a span of about 120 years (1657-1777) the Birdsall family on Long Island saw some of its most turbulent history. Those were the days when Nathan's children, grandchildren and great grandchildren were in their prime, getting married, raising children and buying homes of their own. Nathan and his six neighbors seemed to be favored by the Indians around Matinecock more than other white people. Nathan purchased fifty acres from the Indians and later five acres from Mark Meggs. Legal purchases had to be made through the court because Indians had a way of selling the same property over and over again. Matinecock was later adjudged to be in the township of Oyster Bay. These seven neighbors were Quakers and attended the church o f Society of Friends in Oyster Bay Village, 1669.

Historical events were the serious problems of the people during the time the events were occurring. The following is an outline of the problems this family had to face:

Connecticut annexed New Haven in 1662 and they thought it included Long Island. When they sent men to collect taxes, the settlers drove them back after a short battle with clubs. Connecticut never claimed it after that.

New Amersdam was only about 30 miles from Oyster Bay and it was a Dutch controlled town. The governors of New Amsterdam never could get along with the Indians and they were generally disliked by their own Dutch people. The Indians were more peaceable than the Dutch people, but when angered enough they would kill every white person in sight. In 1655, after the Dutch murdered some Indians, the Indians slew 100 men, women and children and captured 152 along the Hudson River. This, of course, had an effect upon the Indians in the New Haven and Long Island areas.

War between England and Holland broke out in 1654, when Nathan and his family were young and moving to Long Island, but relations between the English and Dutch on Long Island was comparatively peaceful, although Governor Peter Stuyvesant built a wall of upright logs backed by earth along what is now called Wall Street. This was to protect them from the people on Long Island. The settlers in the towns on Long Island sent delegates to a meeting with Stuyvesant so they could work out a defense plan for the general defense and welfare of the colonies. However, the Dutch and English ideas on government were direct opposites and Stuyvesant ordered them out, saying "We derive our authority from God and the Company, not from a few ignorant immigrants and we alone can call the inhabitants together". Stuyvesant, at once, lost all support from both the English and Dutch settlers. Nine years later, the people had became so hostile to Stuyvesant that he asked the Dutch Company for reenforcements.

War between England and Holland broke out again in ten years later, 1664. King Charles 2nd sent the English fleet to take New Amsterdam. When the fleet came into the harbor, Stuyvesant saw it was hopeless so he surrendered the city without firing a shot. The English named it New York and their laws gradually overcame the Dutch laws both in the Dutch and English towns. Colonel Richard Nicolls became the governor of New York and he was well liked by everybody.

A third war between England and Holland began eight years later, 1672, and ended 1674, when Nathan's family of seven boys were teen-agers. The city was again unprepared and in August, 1673, the Dutch fleet appeared off Staten Island After a few shots the New York gartison surrendered, and New York became New Orange under the Dutch rule. The Dutch Captain Anthony Colve was made governor. During the short period of time, about one year, when the Dutch held the town, they cancelled all contracts and agreements, which was quite confusing to all the inhabitants (1673-74). When the war ended, the treaty between England and Holland stipulated that New Orange was to be an English colony and it was again to be called New York.

The period from 1689 to 1740, when the seven sons of Nathan were marrying and raising children, it was the period known as "The Forgotten Half Century" in American History. The population of the colonies increased from 200,000 to 1,000,000 in that 50-year period.

New York city was a mixture of all nationalities and to the north of it in Albany County was mostly Dutch. Our family knew only two languages--English and Dutch. The colonists resented so many foreigners coming into the country because they feared the predominant language would be some thing other than English.

Religious persecution in Germany drove many Germans to America where they settled in Pennsylvania during this period and are now known as Pennsylvania Dutch. The Swiss Mennonites also came during this period. The Quakers, the Germans and the Mennonites united in forming a conservative peace party in Pennsylvania. Although this took place in Pennsylvania, the situation was similar in nearby New York where the family of Nathan moved several years later. The Quakers did not like the Scotch-Irish Presbyterians because they always stirred up trouble with the Indians. The Quakers and Germans were determined to get along with the Indians.

England and France went to war in April, 1689. As a result of this war the French in Canada led the Indians against the out-lying towns and isolated colonists as far south as the middle of Massachusetts and Albany, N.Y. In February, 1690, the entire town of Schenectady was destroyed and its people butchered by the French and Indians. The Colonists of New Hampshire, Massachusetts, Connecticut and New York tried unsuccessfully to organize a force to take Quebec. A small volunteer force tried and failed in October, 1690, to take Quebec. The Quakers did not help much because they were determined to live peaceably with the Iroquois.

Captain Haight's Regiment of New York Provincial troops took part in the above campaign. Isaac Birdsall and his brother Henry were in this regiment. Henry was killed in this war. See Page 12.

In the 1790's pirates infested the Hudson River, waylaying boats between Albany and New York. These pirates were generally of Dutch people living along the Hudson River in the vicinity of Hyde Park. Franklin D. Roosevelt's ancestors began accumulating their fortune with piracy. A galley was outfitted by the English government and was given command to Captain Kidd to hunt out the pirates and destroy them. After Captain Kidd left he was on his own and his crew prevailed upon him to become a pirate himself.

For twenty years, 1690-1710, when Nathan's grandchildren were of grade-school age, the colonists were continually molested with Indian raids led by the French. These raids did not affect the inhabitants of Long Island where our family resided at that time. The colonists begged England for help but England was more interested in the West Indies. In 1709 England sent a fleet against Quebec, while Montreal was to be taken by the militias from New York, Connecticut, New Jersey and Pennsylvania, starting from Albany. The British sea captains gave up without a fight before they reached Quebec. Pennsylvania sent practically no help on account of the peaceful Quakers; Connecticut and Massachusetts had no men so the Colonial militias failed to take Montreal, although they did capture Port Royal.

King Henry VIII acquired the Throne in 1509. In 1512 he and Ferdinand, King of Spain, made war on Louis XII, King of France. His first army of 12,000 men were drowned in the English Channel in 1512. In June, 1513, he raised another army which required the services of Henry Percy, Earl of Northumberland. Robert Birdsall was a part of that army and wrote the following will:

Registered at York, Vol.8/11. Will written in Latin.

Robert Birdsall of Tadcaster.
About to go to France with Henry Percy, Earl of Northumberland, in the presence of John Birdesall and John Fencot.
Bury where God shall have disposed. Morturary according to custom. "Pannos" (Military blankets) in use at time of my death to the one who prepares my body for burial to be disposed of for the poor.
To my son, Richard, "unum plaustouns penchian".
(probably means a pension)
To my daughter, a "barbita and agno".
(a ewe with lamb.)
To Tower of Church at Tadcaster 6/8.
To William Birdsall, son of Thomas Birdsall,
"a barbita cum agno" (a ewe coming with lamb)
Residue to Margaret my wife, and Richard, my son, Executors.
John Birdsall, my brother, supervisor.
Will made June 5, 1513; Proved February 9, 1514.

I presume William is his uncle and Thomas is a cousin. Notice John spells his name Birdsall and Birdesall, which indicates to me the name had not yet become settled to a definite way of spelling.

Robert Birdsall was called into the army by the Earl of Northumberland, Henry Percy, in June, 1513, to go to France. While fighting in France, the Earl's own county was attacked by King James IV of Scotland and the Earl of Surrey, near London, was sent to defend Northumberland. He defeated the Scots on Flodden Field in Northumberland where King James IV of Scotland was killed. Flodden Field is about 120 miles north of Tadcaster.

The Earl of Northumberland fought three battles in France, beginning at Guingamp near their landing place. They marched across the northern part of France and fought a battle at Therousanne and the last one at Tournai, France, now Belgium. King Ferdinand of Spain deserted the battles and King Henry VIII of England was glad to give up on account of the heavy loss of men and so made peace with Louis XII of France. Part of the peace was that King Louis should marry King Henry's sister. King Henry kept Tournai for several years and then sold it to the new King Francis I of France. Robert Birdsall was killed probably late in 1513 at Tournai, France, now Belgium.

RODNEY COOKE ✓

~~from Book belonging to Madelin Watson~~

m. Laura Cowles at Farmington removed to Ohio with his father in 1813

Rodney [& Chauncey] settled on the old farm on the Worthington Road.

9 children born.

as of July 7, 1897, two still living:

H. C. Cooke, living on the old farm.

Demmon P. Cooke, in Columbus, Ohio

d. 1832

Col. Rodney Cooke, died at his residence near Worthington Jan 21, 1832, aged 40 years. He left a wife and 8 small children.

[1901]
(1)

The two oldest sons, Chauncey and Rodney, took up land six miles north of where the State House now stands, their farms adjoining.

The country at that time was densely wooded through which roamed the Indians and wild beasts.

On one occasion the mother of our subject [H. C. Cooke] saw a large black bear devouring a pig near her cabin.

The brothers both erected houses out of round, unhewn logs with puncheon floors and primitive fireplaces, with mud-and-stick chimneys.

They lived in true pioneer style while clearing their land and transforming it into productive fields.

At first their field products were light, but the trusty rifle supplied the deficiency, Rodney Cooke being a good marksman.

In course of time the land became highly cultivated, and upon the farms which they developed the brothers spent the remainder of their lives.

They were energetic and enterprising men, and one of the first grist and saw mills in the County was constructed by them on the Olentangy about 1827, now known as the Weeshaefner Mill.

[1901]

They also operated a distillery, which though erected later than the mill, was one of the first in the County.

Rodney Cooke, who was the father of our subject [H. C. Cooke], was born in Wallingford Connecticut in 1793, and was married to Laura Cowles.

He became prominent in public affairs, and during militia days served as Colonel of a regiment.

He also participated in the war of 1812.

He died in 1833, and his widow, who long survived him, passed away at the age of seventy-three years.

Having learned the tailor's trade in Connecticut, she managed to support her children after her husband's death keeping her family together until they were able to care for themselves.

The youngest child was born three months after the father's death.

[1901]
(3)

All reached Maturity, but only two are now living:

Demont, a resident of Columbus;

and H.C., of this review.

Those deceased were:

Esther D., wife of L.J. Weaver;

Roswell, who married Lorinda Skeel;

Helen, wife of John Good;

Rosalia P., wife of John Webster;

Rachel N., wife of William E. Buck;

Laura, wife of Lester Roberts;

and Rodney Romoaldo, who married Chloe William

In religious conviction the entire family was of the Universalist belief.

H.C. COOKE

Prominent among the business men of Franklin County is numbered H.C. Cooke whose connection with various enterprises and industries have been of decided advantage to this section of the state, promoting its material welfare in no uncertain manner. In business affairs ~~he~~ he is energetic, prompt and notably reliable, and generally carries forward to successful completion whatever he undertakes.

Mr. Cooke is not only a representative of one of the honored pioneer families of this County but also comes of good old colonial stock.

A native of this County H.C. Cooke, was born near Olentangy Park, March 14, 1825, and his early days were spent in a way common with pioneer boys.

He attended the subscription schools conducted in the primitive log school house, and later spent several terms at the old Otterbein seminary in Westerville, Ohio, thus becoming well fitted for life's responsible duties.

He was early inured to the arduous task of clearing the wild land and doing other hard work upon a new farm.

[1901]

He followed teaching for some time, his first school being in what is now North Columbus, where he received ten dollars per month; his second being at the Harbor, then called Rogue's Harbor.

In his home district he taught for several terms

Mr. Cooke was married, May 20, 1855 to Miss Abigail A. Taylor who died suddenly May 7, 1893, at the age of sixty-three years.

To them were born seven children, namely:

Clara, wife of Wellington Webster, of Findley, Ohio;

Flora, wife of J. L. Armstrong, of Clinton township, this county;

Albert Clement, of Columbus, who married Lulu Brown;

Edwin A., who married Ella Haines;

Mary E, deceased wife of David Maize;

Alice A., wife of Charles Hess, of Clinton Township; and Harry Lester, deceased.

after his marriage Mr. Cooke located on the old homestead farm in Clinton township, and as his means permitted he purchased the interests of the other heirs in the place.

Eventually all of the Cooke land entered from the government came into his possession, and he now owns three hundred acres of good land, mostly under cultivation and highly improved.

In addition to his farming interests Mr. Cooke has been identified with other enterprises, the chief among which has been the stock business, probably handling a larger amount of stock than any other shipper in Franklin County.

About eighteen years ago he abandoned that business and since then has been connected with A. G. Grant, under the firm name of Cooke, Grant & Cooke, as contractors in the construction of heavy masonry for railroad bridges etc. in which undertaking he has met with success.

The business is now managed by his son, A. C. Cooke.

He was one of the promoters of the Worthington & Columbus street-car line, and served as treasurer of the company.

Always active and energetic, he has undoubtedly successfully handles more lines of business than any other man in Franklin county, and is deserving of prominent mention among the leading and representative citizens of this section of the state.

[1901]

Politically he has always been a staunch supporter of the Republican party, and in religious belief is a Universalist.

Rodney R. Cooke

[1901]
(1).

Rodney R. Cooke, deceased, was born on the old Cooke homestead in Clinton township, Franklin County, on the 26th of February 1832.

He was a son of Rodney Cooke and Laura (Cowles) Cooke, was a pioneer of the county and was reared upon his father's farm, obtaining his preliminary education in the district schools and in Otterbein University, where he pursued a partial course before attaining his majority.

He afterward followed farming and school-teaching until his enlistment in the Civil War on the 22d of February 1864, for three years or during the war.

He was assigned to Company G, of the Fifty-seventh Ohio Volunteer Infantry, and in March following he joined his regiment, which was then doing service in Kentucky.

He participated in the battle of Snake Creek Gap on the 8th of May; Resaca from the 13th to the 16th of May; Dallas May 25; Kenesaw Mountain, July 9; and the battle of Atlanta, on the 26th of July.

He was also in several skirmishes, and about the 1st of September, 1864, was taken ill and sent to the hospital in the rear of Atlanta.

He was afterward transferred to various hospitals until he arrived at Bedloe's island New York and later was sent to Hilton Head, South Carolina, where he remained until the close of the war.

[1901]

He then participated in the grand review at Washington, in May, 1865.

He served with the First Brigade, Second Division, Fifteenth Army Corps, under Generals Sherman, McPherson and Logan while Captain James Wilson, of Findlay, Ohio had command of the company and Colonel A.V. Rice of the regiment.

He was honorably discharged June 27, 1865 but returned an invalid from the war.

Broken down in health, he was largely incapacitated for performing manual labor upon the farm. However, he accomplished his work as well as he could a resolute will enabling him to perform the task.

On the 24th of May, 1860, Mr. Cooke was married to Miss Cloe Williams, a daughter of William and Lucinda (Philps) Williams, of Delaware County, Ohio.

By this marriage was born a daughter, Luella Z., who fills a position in the patent-office in Washington, D.C.

[1901]

It will [thus] be seen that the ancestors of Mrs. Cooke have been prominent factors in the improvement, development and upbuilding of Franklin County.

She is a member of the United Brethren Church, with which she has long been connected and is a consistent Christian woman.

She is a member of the Ladies of the Grand Army of the Republic, having on its organization joined Colonel Ellsworth Circle, No. 4, of Columbus.

For two terms, of one year each, she served as its President and has also been its chaplain by election, secretary by appointment two years and department chaplain of the L. of the G.A.R. one year.

She is a member of the Rebekah Order of the Odd Fellows belonging to Chidsey Lodge No. 399, held the office of noble grand one term, was chaplain three terms and deputy three years.

She was then elected for a fourth year, but declined to serve.

Mrs. Cooke is a lady of prominence, fearless, sincere and earnest in whatever she champions.

She is loyal to the defenders of our country, and her chief pleasure is to perpetuate in the minds of the young the gratitude and honor which is so justly deserved by those who followed the starry banner upon the battlefields of the south.

Her husband died October 28, 1886, having been confined to his bed eleven years, and his sickness and death resulting from his army experience.

His was a record of a noble and useful life, consistent with the right, and wherever he was known he was held in the highest regard.

In many respects his career was worthy of emulation, and among the representative men of Franklin County he well deserves mention.

[1901]

Clae Williams

A daughter of William and Lucinda (Phelps) Williams, of Delaware County, Ohio.

Mrs. Cooke's father was a native of Pennsylvania, born in Bedford county, where his early life was passed.

In 1800 his parents came to Ohio, settling in Fairfield county near Lancaster, during the early childhood of their son.

William Williams was a son of Rev. John and Margaret (Taylor) Williams.

The former was a chaplain in the Colonial Army during the Revolutionary War.

He was born in Maryland and was of Welsh descent, his father having probably been born in the little rock-ribbed country of Wales, becoming the founder of his branch of the family in America.

A Minister of the Methodist Episcopal Church Rev. Mr. Williams became one of early itinerant preachers in Ohio.

He also fallowed farming and purchased fourteen hundred and ninety-six acres of land in Genoa township, Delaware county.

He had nine children, all of whom have now passed away.

Thomas, the eldest son, was a babe when his parents removed from Maryland to Bedford County, Pennsylvania. They traveled on horse-back carrying the baby "Tom," in a basket. Out of this he rolled to the ground, when the Mother exclaimed, "Laws a massy! My baby is killed!" but the little fellow was not hurt at all.

The other children are;

Linda, born January 3, 1785;
William, August 23, 1787;
Martha, September 3, 1791;
Elizabeth, October 22, 1793;

ROSWELL COOK(1)E

3d son of Amos and Rhoda Hosford Cooke.

b. Dec. 6th, 1764

m. Rachel Newell Oct 21, 1788

d. in Delaware, O. on Dec 27, 1827

(In 1813 sold his fine farm on the Farmington intervals and removed to Columbus, Ohio)

(Here he located on a fine farm between that city and Worthington, in the vicinity of the Scioto River.

At the age of sixteen years he volunteered into the army of the revolution, where he continued til the end of that contest, when he was honorably discharged.

He purchased a farm on the rich interval lands in the township of Farmington, where he resided til 1813.

He was a very respectable citizen, and one of the best farmers in the vicinity.

It was a singular coincidence that while his father, Amos Cooke, was suffering persecution in the town of Wallingford for his rigid Episcopalian views and his Federal beliefs, that his son Roswell's residence in Farmington was rendered unpleasant and even uncomfortable by the treatment he received from the population of that town.

Roswell Cooke was an extensive reader for a farmer, was in politics a firm Jeffersonian Democrat, and his religious views did not square with those of the Saybrook platform, entertained by the good people of Farmington.

From these circumstances Constant bickerings arose, till, in the year 1813, while the war with Great Britain was progressing, they became so unpleasant that he sold his fine farm on the Farmington intervals and removed to Columbus, Ohio.

Here he located on a fine farm between that City and Worthington, in the vicinity of the Scioto River.

Children:

1. Chauncey.

...touch a little on pioneer life in the early days of Ohio

My grandfather, with his family, his sons Chauncey and Rodney, with their young wives, were six weeks coming from their pleasant home in Connecticut, to their future home in Ohio.

At that time there was one log Cabin where Columbus now stands. The site of the future city was a slashing;

One great trial they met with was the Pennsylvania wagons with their six horse teams and drivers.

Sometimes it amounted to a skirmish (when they attempted to take the right of way from the "damned Yankee carts," as they termed the two-horse wagons from Connecticut) in which case they always found if the carts were small they carried plenty of muscle, and the muscle carried the day

They had the good fortune to arrive safely at their destination, with plenty of strength and energy to carry on their work in the new country.

[1901]

The founder of the family in Ohio was Roswell Cooke, who was born in Farmington, Connecticut December 6, 1764, and was the third son of James and Rhoda (Hosford) Cooke.

At the age of sixteen he enlisted in the Colonial army, and served throughout the remainder of the Revolutionary War.

On the 21st of October 1788 he married Rachel Newell, of Farmington, and in 1800, with his wife and five children, two sons being married at that time, he left his Connecticut home and started for the territory of Ohio by wagons which carried their worldly possessions.

During the journey, which lasted six weeks, they met with several adventures.

While passing through Pennsylvania, the Dutch teamsters with their big wagons often refused the right of way to the travelers calling their vehicles "damned Yankee carts" and fights resulted with victory to the Yankees, as is usually the case in any contest.

On their arrival in Columbus that city contained but one log cabin.

Roswell Cooke died in Delaware, Ohio,
December 27, 1827.

Caroline Jennette Cooke, born in Franklin Co, Jan 28, 1827, married Josiah Barber, Civil Engineer of Cleveland, Ohio, Jan 16, 1851.

They spent some years of their married life on the old farm in Franklin Co. Here was born to them, on July 6, 1852, their only child, Kate Cooke Barb~~our~~er, who died here June 6, 1863.

At the close of the war, Mr + Mrs. Barber moved to Cleveland, where in 1884, Mrs. Barber died, aged 59 years.

As of July 7, 1897, Mrs. Barber only one of Chauncey Cooke's children still living.

Never was there a family more kind and genial among themselves than this branch of the Cookes.

They were open hearted and hospitable, and several of them quite gifted in a musical way so that the home became the natural gathering place for people all around the country on all sorts of festive occasions

In the autumn of 1810 Chauncey Cooke entered the popular and flourishing academy at Wallingford, then in charge of the Rev. Joshua Bradley. At that time a very pleasant, intelligent and social circle of young people were either in attendance on the academy or were residents of the town.

Sleighrides, balls, and especially cotillion parties, under the direction of Nathan Clark, afterward Colonel in the United States army, frequently engaged the attention of that social circle.

Young Cooke was a popular member of it, and as it often engaged in vocal music, and he was a proficient as a singer, he become our musical leader.

At that day "Jefferson and Liberty," though now forgotten, was then the universal party song of the Jeffersonians.

Politics ran high and it was frequently sang by our young circle. Cooke generally officiated as chorister on such occasions

[1901]

The two oldest sons, Chauncey and Rodney, took up land six miles north of where the state house now stands, their farms adjoining.

The country at that time was densely wooded, through which roamed the Indians and wild beasts.

The brothers both erected houses out of round unhewn logs, with puncheon floors and primitive fireplaces, with mud-and-stick chimney.

They lived in true pioneer style while clearing their land and transforming it into productive fields.

At first their field products were light, but the trusty rifle supplied the deficiency, Rodney Cooke being a good marksman.

In course of time the land became highly cultivated, and upon the farms which they developed the brothers spent the remainder of their lives.

They were energetic and enterprising men, and one of the first grist and saw mills in the County was constructed by them on the Olentangy about 1827, now known as the Weisheimer mill.

[1901]

They also aperated a distillery, which, though erected later than the mill, was one of the first in the County.

Amos

Long before the American Revolution, he attached himself to the then small society of Episcopalians. That society were Loyalists or Tories at and during the Revolution. Small in numbers they embraced some of the best families in that town. A most violent and virulent persecution was commenced against them, not milder nor more tolerant than the recent Ku Klux at the South. Many of the best families were compelled to flee with their clergyman, the Rev. Samuel Andrews, to Nova Scotia. Amos Cooke took a prominent position in defense of his religious rights..... Arrests and fines used up all his property and destroyed his business. At the close of the war he was poor but owned a small place on Main street, in Wallingford.

In 1786-7 the constitution of the United States was formed and adopted... He was determined to be on the side of the Government, and accordingly attached himself to the Federal party as an ardent defender of the new Constitution. All of the Episcopalians in that town, as well as many of its best people, took the same position, but all of that numerous rabble that had been such ardent patriots during the revolution now became anti-Federalists or Democrats. Many respectable persons also joined the anti-Federal Party, which constituted a large majority in the town. Politics never ran higher or raged with more virulence.

They eventuated in the election of Mr. Jefferson as president. The great Jeffersonian festival was held here on the 11th of March, 1801.

"Physical causes influence the moral faculty." wrote Dr. Rush. Both physical and mental causes had for a long series of years exerted their full and unfavorable influences on this individual and changed his nature and disposition.

While the whole Cooke family, in all its branches, were distinguished for kindness, affability, and a musical taste, he from 1800 to 1810 was morose, misanthropic and quarrelsome. This life of controversy had obliterated the kind Cooke disposition and substituted a pugilistic one in its place.

His children scattered and left him, and he and his wife, for at least ten years experienced a life of poverty, relieved in part by the contributions of his son Roswell, his Cooke relations, and the members of the Episcopal church.

His wife died May 10th, 1810.

[1897]

Soon after Roswell came with a carriage and prepared to take his father to Farmington, where he would be well cared for.

Persuasion made no impression. "No," said he, "I'd rather stay here and read Hudson & Goodwin," (the Federal newspaper than to go and live with my son Roswell."

Two of the township selectmen thought to hasten a termination of the affair by raising him by force into the carriage. A demonstration on his part soon convinced them that their line of duty lay in some other direction.

He, however, soon after left Wallingford and took up his residence among his children. He died at the house of his youngest son, Lyman Cooke, in Marcellus, N.Y. in the year 1813, age over eighty years.

Capt. Jeremiah Carrington and kept the noted "Carrington Hotel" in Wallingford for many years, and as late as the year 1812.

[1897]
(3)

Of the children of Isaac and Jerusha Cooke (Isaac 2nd), there settled and were living in Wallingford, as late as 1810, the following, to-wit:

1. Amos
2. Isaac 3d.
3. Caleb
4. Ambrose
5. Mindwell

Isaac Cooke.

Third child of Isaac and Jerusha Sexton Cooke, Wallingford, Conn., born July 28th 1739 (brother of Amos).

At the age of nineteen he had completed his common school education, what then embraced reading, spelling, writing and arithmetic, and was engaged in learning the trade of stone mason and working at intervals on a farm.

At this age he was distinguished for his muscular strength and activity. Athletic exercises, as wrestling, running, jumping, etc., were the popular amusements of the young men. At these he was universally the victor in all contests. Even as late as the year of his death, 1810, his step was as firm and precise as the best drilled West Point student

In 1758, a requisition was made on the province of Connecticut for a large body of her militia to join the expedition against Canada fitting out under General Abercrombie. Scores of young men, Isaac Cooke among the number were pressed (not drafted), and forthwith joined the army before Ticonderoga. They were placed under the tyrannical instruction of the British drill sergeants, and from necessity became military proficients. He was present at the battle when Lord Howe was killed. At the close of the campaign he was discharged and returned home, thoroughly embued with martial experience, and was soon elected Captain of one of the Wallingford militia companies, an unusual compliment to be conferred on so young a man in those days. This position he held till the commencement of the American revolution, and he brought his company into the highest state of discipline.

He married Martha, daughter of Benjamin Cooke, March 6th, 1760, and continued to follow his stone mason trade and to carry on farming till the news of the battle of Lexington arrived.

On the receipt of that intelligence he and part of his militia company hastened to Boston. As soon as the Provincial Congress formed a regular army he was commissioned a captain. In that army he continued to serve every day during the protracted contest, and at its disbandonment he was honorably discharged as colonel.

He was present generally under the immediate command of Washington in several important battles. At the crossing of the Delaware and during the ensuing battles, he and his company occupied a most important positionafter the close of that war he resumed his trade and resided on his farm on the crest of Long Hill, in Wallingford, where he died June 10th, 1810, aged seventy-one years.

He was universally respected and beloved by a large circle of acquaintances.

Children –

[1] First, Joel, born October 12th, 1760.

When his father was appointed captain in the regular army its regulations required captain to be provided with waiters, who drew regular pay from the Government. This son, though only thirteen years old, his father selected, and he served in that capacity seven years, till the close of the war; ~~then, and~~ then, without a trade or occupation, he married and settled in New Haven.

In 1800 the people of Wallingford formed a fine military Company and Joel Cooke was chosen captain of it though residing thirteen miles from that town. In a brief time he brought the company into such a high state of discipline as to attract public attention.

Mr. Jefferson, in a political freak like ours

[1847]

Modern Democrats resolved to demolish the United States regular army. In 1806, finding the Government involved in a controversy with Spain, he concluded to raise a number of regiments of troops.

Joel Cooke was appointed captain in the Tenth Regiment under the command of Colonel Boyd. To that regiment General Harrison's preservation from a St. Clair defeat at Tippecanoe was owing. Captain Cooke and company particularly distinguished themselves.

Soon after ill-health compelled him to resign. He died at Babylon on Long Island, December 10th, 1851, aged 92.

[2] Samuel settled at Lewiston, N.Y., in 1793.

Was father of Bates Cooke, who was for many years comptroller of the treasury of the state of New York.

[3] Isaac 4th, born in Wallingford, Conn, July 16th, 1768, died at Chillicothe, O. January 22d, 1844; the third son of Colonel Isaac and Martha Cooke.

He emigrated to Chillicothe, O., in 1791, where he was very generally and favorably known, and in early days filled several public offices. For a time he was associate judge of the Court of Common Pleas.

[1847]

In the year 1828 .... he, with Isaac Walk, represented the county of Ross in the same body [House of Representatives of Ohio]. .....The early history of our native town of Wallingford and the biography of his numerous Cooke relatives were the principal topics of our conversations.

In 1742 he married Margaretta Scott.

Marietta, daughter of Isaac Cooke 4th married James Webb, M.D.

A daughter of this marriage is the wife of Rutherford B. Hayes, president of the United States.

Mrs. Hayes descended through four successive generations of Isaac Cookes.

Not one of her relatives by the name of Cooke is now to be found in the town of Wallingford. A few distant collateral relations still exist there.

Cleveland Historical Society

* Dr. Kirtland says he distinctly recollected the event (death of Rhoda (Hosford) Cook [Amos]) on day he left Wallingford on his first visit to Ohio.

---

* In 1813, he learned that Chauncey and all of Roswell Cooke's family had left (F)armington and gone to west in 53 years afterward, he called on Dr. Kirtland at his residence near Cleveland.

Dr Kirtland died shortly after 1875
